Increase Difficulty of Passing Law to Lower Rates on Railroad Debts

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Copyright 1926 Post Pub. Co.

Washington—News of the increase in earnings of railroads of America for the first six months of this year will after being thoroughly digested have certain political effects.

First the railroad showing is another indication of the prosperous condition of the country. As such it will be ammunition on the stump for the members of congress who are re-elected this fall and who will attribute the economic advance to the policies of the party in power.

Second, it will revive the cry of the farm groups for lower freight rates

so as to give a greater margin to the producer.

Third, it may make more difficult

the passage of the legislation proposed at the last session whereby the war debts of the railroads to the government can be funded at lower interest rates.

EFFECT ON AGRICULTURE

The principal effect however will be noted in the debate on agriculture.

The railroads have been petitioned to reduce freight rates but have always pleaded that they were not earning what return on the value of their properties that the government has fixed what is a fair return, the same being outlined in the Transportation act.

Even in the favorable showing just made public, the railroads have not come up to the figure set as a "fair return." When they do, there is a division of profits under what is known as the "recapture clause" which has been held constitutional.

Until the day when the earnings of the railroads exceed the amount of the fair return, the railroad executives will fight the idea of any general reduction in freight rates. They have contended that railroads cannot be judged on the earnings of any one year and that before adjustments can be made the railroads must have an opportunity to recoup in the years when earnings were unfavorable and to assure themselves that the whole transportation problem has been put on a stable basis. The question of consolidation has been hopeful that relief for the farmer might come through the economies in operating expenses that would follow consolidation of strong and weak roads.

BORROW MONEY

The railroads are borrowing money for equipment and expansion at a much lower rate than they did in the years immediately following the war

FATHER DROWNS IN FRUITLESS EFFORT
TO SAVE DAUGHTERMontello, (P)—Alfred E. Silver of Urbana, Ill., was drowned with his daughter Mary Ethel, 25, in the Fox river here Friday afternoon.
Mr. Silver answered calls for help from his daughter although he was unable to swim. He waded out into the river and stepped into a drop off. Efforts of rescuers failed although Mr. Silver's body and that of his daughter were brought to the beach in a short time.1,000 DIE IN CHINA DAILY
FROM CHOLERAFew Foreigners in Orient Succumb to Scourge of EastShanghai, (P)—Cholera, scourge of the east is taking an appalling toll of Chinese in the native section of Shanghai and in the district known as Pootung across the Whangpoo riv-er. The dread disease is carrying off more than 1,000 daily, it is estimated.Foreigners living in well governed concession districts under modern sanitary conditions have suffered comparatively little.

Only two of the 20,000 foreign residents have succumbed. It is impossible to obtain an accurate count of the deaths among the Chinese indensely packed, unsanitary districts into which a population of a million and one half is jammed.

IOWA ATTORNEY
CHOSEN SENATORDavid W. Stewart Appointed by Governor to Fill Rest of 'Cummins' TermDes Moines, Ia., (P)—David W.
Stewart, Sioux City attorney, Saturday was appointed by Governor Ham-mill as United States senator to serve from now until the November generalelection in place of the late Senator A. B. Cummins. Stewart was namedby the state Republican convention here Friday as the party's nominee inthe November election for the term of Senator Cummins which expires in March 1927. The appointment was necessary because congress reconvenes before Stewart could be certified, following the November election.

CONGRESS IN MEXICO MAY END STRUGGLEHope for Passage of Less Drastic Regulations at New SessionMexico City, (P)—The impasse in the struggle between the government and the Catholic church in Mexico may possibly be solved through "re-enactment by the new congress, which convenes Sept. 1, of religious regu-lations less drastic than those which went into effect a week ago—at least that is the hope held at present in some circles.

Legislation on the religious subject is expected to be one of the first things taken up by the new congress.It may result in congressional reaffirmation of President Calles regulations in a contest between the president and congress on the subject or in the passage of milder regulations.

Hope of congressional modification studying and preparing a draft law based upon an announcement by the department of interior that is regulating article 130 of the constitution which is the religious section.

The department will submit this bill to congress.

NO END IN SIGHT

The end of the first week in the break between the Roman Catholic church authorities and the Mexican government over the government'snewly imposed regulations governing the enactment of the religious clauses of the constitution, found the op-posing groups in changed positions.
There apparently are no prospects of a settlement of the controversy at anearly date. The priests continue to absent themselves from the churches but the doors of many of the edifices are open for worshippers to enter and meditate and pray.

Business circles continue to take a gloomy view of the situation fearful that the economic boycott instituted by the national league for defense ofreligious freedom as a protest against the religious regulations, may assume more serious proportions in the capitol.

Reports from Zacapu state of Michoacan say that there have been serious disorders between the popu-lar and police and soldiers growing out of the religious situation. The reports add that the troops are in control of the situation but that there were several casualties during the combat. Neither the government nor the local newspapers have any authoritative details.

FORMER LAW PARTNER OF LA FOLLETTE DIESMadison, (P)—Paul Gurnee, 54, at one time associated with the late Senator La Follette in law practice here and for the last 20 years an actuary for the Wisconsin Insurance company died here Friday night.

Mr. Gurnee graduated from the University of Wisconsin in 1891. After leaving the university he started as a clerk in the La Follette law office, later becoming a member of the firm when the late senator became gov-ernor. Funeral services probably will be held Monday.GOVERNORS TO DISCUSS FARM SITUATION IN U. S.Des Moines, Ia., (P)—Governor Hammill announced Saturday that the executive committee of governors who met recently at Cheyenne, Wyo.,had decided to call a conference of governors of the agricultural states west and the industrial east to dis-cuss the agricultural situation.

The meeting is to be held in October but the exact time and place have not yet been decided.

U. S. CHURCH SEIZED BY MEXICO

Here is the American Episcopal church in Mexico City, seizure of which by the Mexican government caused formal protest by United States Consul General Weddell. Inset is Bishop Frank W. Creighton, who was in charge.Find 2 Men Missing Since Blast At Munition DepotToledo, O., (P)—Oliver C. Bliss, 18, son of Waterville, Ohio, and Paul W.
Moreau, Bridgeport, Conn., privates in the United States Marine corps and listed as missing since the explosion which destroyed the United States naval munition depot at Lake Denmark, N. J., are at the home of Bliss parents near Waterville.Both men appeared to be shell shocked. They have been wandering in a dazed condition since the day of the explosion, Bliss parents said.Oliver burst into tears when he saw a concrete bridge which crosses a lit-tle stream in the rear of his home.

"It looks like an ammunition dugout," he said. "I'm afraid it will explode." Oliver had $1.75 in his pocket when found and Moreau 75 cents. They do not remember how they came to To-ledo but Mr. Bliss believes that they walked.The two marines were found at the interurban station here Saturday morning by Verne Bliss, Oliver's father.

A cousin, Ralph, had reported that he thought he had seen Oliver on a Toledo street Friday afternoon and his father had searched for him. He happened to come across the men in the station.Marine corps officials were notified of their return and they were taken to Detroit Saturday afternoon. There a guard will be furnished to escort them to the naval hospital in Washington, D. C.

THREE BREAK OUT OF PHILLIPS JAILCriminals Saw Way Out of Second Story Window and Reach Ground With RopePhillips, (P)—Three men saved their way out of the Price-co jail here sometime Friday night. The instru-ments used in effecting the escape have not been determined, but jail authorities said Saturday that they believed that the only thing the pris-oners could have used was razor blades.The men who escaped are Roy Headcraft, 40 years old, awaiting sentence on a theft charge; Herman Ko-lander, held on an assault charge, and Felix Sarjonski, who was serving a 90-day sentence on a vagrancy charge.CAL DEVOTES BRIEF TIME

TO POLITICSEven on Vacation President Must Consider Government Questions

Plymouth, Vt., (P)—Political and government questions have occupied President Coolidge but little since he came here to the old family home-stead for a few days visit, although both have been given his attention for brief intervals.

With Representative Tilson of Connecticut, the Republican house floor leader, he discussed Friday general matters before Mr. Tilson left for New York.

It was made known that the President considered it the duty of the United States to act in situations such as that presented by the diffi-culty between the church and the state in Mexico only, it and when some action "has been taken againstAmerican citizens there or some treaty rights have been contravened.Reports that Soviet Russia might send a commission to this country to fund its debt to the United States have not reached the President but it was indicated that he feels it is not necessary for the "Washingtongovernment to take any action. If Russia wants to pay he assures it will first repeal its ordinance repudi-ating the debt."

A quiet weekend was planned by the President, who is to return to White Pine camp in the Adirondacks
Monday.RELIGION IN U. S.

Americans Sit on Ecclesiastical Bleachers and Watch Trained Hierarchy

Williams Bay, (P)—"Spectatoritis" appeals to H. Augustine Smith of the Boston University school of religious education as a grave problem of the church."American church goes" in his view "Are now content to sit on ec-clesiastical bleachers and watch their trained hierarchy, the minister the choir, the organist, perform."He observed before a session Friday of a conference of religious workers from 25 states, that the tendency is "much easier and more American"but detrimental in the work of the church.A cure he said, would be a revival of congregational participation in the singing of historic church and international hymns, holding that "nothing will stir American religious life more quickly or more deeply than such a revival.""Divine song," he urged "is just waiting a kindling in many a cold, lifeless shrine of formal and vicarious worship."Mr. Smith also urged that the tide that is carrying American youth away from the church may be stemmed by incorporation in the program of the church of the fine arts, with which field the three day session is specifically concerned.

CONQUEROR OF WILLS
WINS DOUBLES TITLESeabright, N. J., (P)—Elizabeth Ryan of California, who Friday tri-umphed over Helen Wills to win the women's singles final of the Seabright tennis tournament Saturday won the doubles title as the partner of Eleanor Goss of New York. They decisivelydefeated Mrs. Molla Mallory of New York and Katherine Porter of Phila-delphia, 6-1, 6-3. Governor A. Harry Moore of New Jersey and Mrs. Moore were among the spectators.BOYS ESCAPE STATION THROUGH OUTSIDE AIDMilwaukee, (P)—Paul Blaho, 17, and Joseph Langyel, 15, escaped from the Cudahy police station Fri-day night. Police said someone had entered the station through a window and had unlocked the cell of the youths.HINDU SCIENTIST PORTRAYS HEART BEATS OF FLOWEROxford, England, (P)—The heart beats of a snap dragon were portrayed to an audience of scientists by Sir Jagadis Bose, Hindu savant, to illustrate his theory that plants have physical lives similar to a human. His delicate instruments also pictured the "flowing" of the flower's
"blood stream."GERTRUDE IS FEATURE OF BRITISH PRESSChannel Swimmer Replaces Helen Wills and Suzanne as Center of NewsLondon, (P)—Gertrude Ederle has become "Gertrude of America" to the British press, displacing Suzanne of France and Helen of America as the leading news feature in the London newspaper.Suzanne Lenglen's decision to turn professional, Helen Wills' comments on Suzanne's move, and Anita Loos' arrival in London to direct the production of her new farce had overshadowed all the news of mere men for several days before Gertrude's masterful of the channel, "The uni-versal comment upon Miss Ederle's channel victory is the American athletes went top until they have won every world prize.Asked to say something regarding her experience Miss Ederle replied:

"All I can say is that when I started off, I was determined to stay until
I had planted my feet on the Eng-lish shore and I am glad I did it.
I feel proud indeed and so would you if you were receiving all these letters, telegrams and cables of congratulations."

TO GET AUTO

It was worth doing it to see how pleased papa is. He promised me a motor car when I did it, and now I'm going to have that car."

The channel swim she added, seemed very far away Saturday "just like a dream.""I never to sleep night before last in my hotel at Boulogne" she continued "and I woke up Saturday morning in my hotel in Dover—but what happened between seems quite unreal."

Miss Ederle said she tired soon after she started the swim but that weariness wore off in midchannel."I felt that the worst was over when I got within sight of England," she went on, "but afterward the sight ofEngland became discouraging instead of encouraging. When I was a few miles from shore, it looked as if it got nearer. That was very bad for me, and I knew it, so I quit looking and swam as if I were right in the middle of the channel and making fast progress."At one time, she said, her father and her coach, "old Bill" Burgess ad-vised her to quit because of the storm, but she told them: "I am not coming out until I am pulled out, and you just try to pull me out." When closeto Dover, the tide changed and swept her toward Deal so that she lost sight of Dover. "I felt," she said, "as if the sea were pulling me right away from England after that. I felt I had better not look any more but go on swimming as long as I could keep afloat."It is estimated that on her record breaking swim Friday she covered be-tween 30 and 35 miles, counting both swim and drift.FIND BODY OF RICH WISCONSIN BACHELORSparta, (P)—The body of Olaf Kirkoby, 60 year old wealthy bachelor of Rockland, was found Friday by a searching party in the timber near Rockland. From the position of the body, which was hanging face down ward over a cliff it was believed that death was the result of a heart attack. Kirkoby went blackberry picking Thursday and parties started in search of him when he did not return at night.OLD WOODEN BRIDGE HAS

Measure Regarded as Most Important Financial Project Contemplated

Paris, (P)—The preliminary stages of Premier Poincare's plans to put France on a stable financial footing were realized Saturday.

The senate by wide margins adopted a bill creating a sinking fund for retirement of short term bonds and refunding of the internal floating debt. The vote was 281 to 6. The bill also transferred the tobacco monopoly to corporate control.The bill authorizing the bank of France to purchase foreign gold currencies through the issuance of additional notes if necessary, also had easy passage, being adopted 271 to 11.

LAW BY NEXT TUESDAY

Next Tuesday the first measure which is regarded by the premier as the most important of his financial projects will be made the organic law of the land at an extra-ordinary session of the two houses of parliament,

3 INJURED IN AIRPLANE FALL NEAR QUARRY

George Hannigan, Appleton Youth, Is Most Seriously Hurt of Trio

Three persons, two of them Appleton residents, were injured when an airplane crashed to earth as it was leaving the ground at about 5 o'clock Friday afternoon at Quarry. About fifteen miles west of Manitowoc, the machine, which was piloted by Melvin Thompson of Quarry, was about 20 feet from the ground when it apparently struck a strong air current and was whirled to earth in a nose-dive.

George Hannigan, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. James T. Hannigan, 218 E. Harris-st., suffered the most serious injuries in the crash, with a double fracture of the left hip, and a compound fracture of the left knee. It was feared Friday morning at a Manitowoc hospital, to which the injured persons were rushed on a special train, that amputation of the limb might be necessary.

Robert Shepherd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben F. Shepherd, 1006 E. Taylor-st., the third person in the party suffered a dislocated bone in his right leg, according to a report received Saturday morning from Manitowoc. Thompson suffered a cut about the left eye, the report stated.

Hannigan and Shepherd left Appleton in an automobile in company with another man, and motored to Quarry. At this point the two embarked in the airplane with Thompson, intending to go to Milwaukee, where the plane was entered to compete in a race at the King Neptune water pageant.

The accident occurred within a few seconds after the plane had left the ground. It is thought that the machine plunged into a strong cross-current of air and that Thompson lost control. The airplane was badly wrecked in the crash.

CHICAGOAN FINED FOR DISORDERLY CONDUCT

Carl Krueger, who says his home is in Chicago, paid a fine of $25 and costs of $7.50 Saturday morning after pleading guilty to a charge of disorderly conduct. Krueger was arrested at Pierce park July 25 by Detective Sergeant Duval, and was held on a charge of lewd conduct which, however, was later changed to disorderly conduct. He was held in county jail until his release Saturday morning.

AID ASSOCIATION MEN AT MILWAUKEE PICNIC

G. D. Ziegler, president of the Aid Association for Lutherans, Albert Voeks, vice president and B. E. Mayerhoff, general field man, will attend the picnic of all Milwaukee branches of the association at Milwaukee Sunday. Mr. Mayerhoff will be the principal speaker.

The affair will open with church services in the morning, followed by a basket lunch. In the afternoon speeches, games and entertainment of various kinds will take place. A crowd of approximately 10,000 people is expected at the picnic, according to Mr. Ziegler.

BOARD BACKS OFFICIAL IN MILLER PERMIT CASE

The zoning board of appeals, composed of Albert H. Krugmeier, chairman, Fremont Johnston and Edward O'Keefe, sustained Walter O. Zschachner, city building inspector, in his refusal to grant a building permit to John F. Miller, 219 W. Hancock-st. Miller was refused a permit to demolish his residence and the case was heard by the board Friday morning at the city hall. The board voted unanimously to uphold Zschachner.

POSTPONE MEETING OF COMMITTEE TO MONDAY

The meeting of the industrial committee of the chamber of commerce, scheduled for Friday, has been postponed until Monday to allow members to complete their reports on the booth sale for the Wisconsin Products exposition, according to Miss Mabel Sibley, assistant secretary of the chamber of commerce. More than half the nine booths apportioned to Appleton and Outagamie-co for the exposition at the state fair this fall have been sold to local and county firms and an attempt was to be made to complete the sale by Friday. Reports will be made at Monday's meeting.

EKERN EVADES DRY QUESTION, SMITH CHARGES

Says LaFollette Candidate for Governor Has Made Too Many Promises

Oshkosh—(AP)—Evasion of the prohibition question by Attorney General Ekern, LaFollette progressive candidate for governor, was charged by W. Stanley Smith, progressive Republican candidate running on an anti-Volstead platform, in an address here Friday night.

"There never has been a campaign in which so many promises have been made," Mr. Smith declared. "Herman Ekern would have to be elected Governor for life to make good on the promises without end he is making the people of all the things he will do and all the burdens he will lift if they will only help him to realize his ambitions."

"Mr. Ekern has not given any definite promises, or any clear cut statement, on the Prohibition question. True, if you will nominate him on the 7th of September for Governor, he is perfectly willing that in November the people shall have an opportunity for a 'Yes' or 'No' referendum on the beer question; but what his position on this question is or will be, is still a profound secret."

"We know that Mr. Ekern has the established reputation of being dishonest, are informed that Mr. Zimmerman has a similar reputation, while it is well known that I have continually and outspokenly been opposed to the Eighteenth amendment, the Volstead and Sevenson laws, and have repeatedly pledged to do all in my power to bring about a repeal of change in this mistaken, unsuccessful experiment to infringe upon the personal liberty and customs of our people."

Mr. Smith said he opposed the candidacy of Mr. Ekern because "the attorney general—nor a governor—can efficiently serve the people and at the same time receive retainers, or salary, or fees from insurance companies to act as their retainers, when these fees and retainers come to him through his law firm in Wisconsin or in Chicago."

BUILDING PERMITS

Building permits aggregating $5,900 were issued Friday and Saturday by Walter O. Zschachner, city building inspector. Permits were issued to W. R. Johnston, 1448 E. College, for remodeling a residence; the Misses Bucholtz, 514 N. Oneida-st., for a sleeping porch; and William Sombke, 530 E. Wisconsin-ave for a residence and garage at 319 E. Randall-st.

CHECK PASSERS

Authorities Fail to Arrest Men Who Passed Worthless Checks in Green Bay

Efforts to arrest the persons who have swindled Green Bay merchants out of more than $1,000 this week by cashing worthless checks, drawn on the Citizens National bank of Appleton and signed by the forged name of Rudolph Pfund, secretary and treasurer of the Northern Boiler Structural Iron works of this city, have been unavailing up to the present, according to Appleton police.

Nineteen protested checks, totaling $1,001, were returned to Mr. Pfund up to noon Friday by Appleton banks not including those which were received directly by the Citizens National bank. Mr. Pfund was not in this city Saturday morning, but a report from his office stated that no more checks were received.

Worthless checks protested up to noon Saturday were made payable to Jack Lund, Fred Weber, E. Vogel, F. Lapin and F. Weber. All were cashed at Green Bay. Prompt detection of the worthless checks was in-

Efforts to arrest the persons who have swindled Green Bay merchants out of more than $1,000 this week by cashing worthless checks, drawn on the Citizens National bank of Appleton and signed by the forged name of Rudolph Pfund, secretary and treasurer of the Northern Boiler Structural Iron works of this city, have been unavailing up to the present, according to Appleton police.

Nineteen protested checks, totaling $1,001, were returned to Mr. Pfund up to noon Friday by Appleton banks not including those which were received directly by the Citizens National bank. Mr. Pfund was not in this city Saturday morning, but a report from his office stated that no more checks were received.

Worthless checks protested up to noon Saturday were made payable to Jack Lund, Fred Weber, E. Vogel, F. Lapin and F. Weber. All were cashed at Green Bay. Prompt detection of the worthless checks was in-

MORE NEW BOOKS ARE ADDED TO LIBRARY

Pure romance of an old fashioned but enduring type is to be found in "Hangman's House," a novel by Donn Byrne, which is one of a new list of books received at the Appleton library. It is a highly idealistic love story that is well told. "Padlocked", by Rex Beach, which was recently shown as a movie at an Appleton theatre, is one of the books in the group.

Others on the list are: "The Exquisite Perdita," Barrington, E.; "They Had To See Paris," Croy, Homer; "Chimes," Herrick Robert; "The Sea-Wolf," London Jack; "Sun Woman," Schultz, J. W.; "English Literature," Schuster, G. W.; "Teetallow," Stribling, T. S.; "The Golden Squaw," Whalen, Will; "Chaucer's Nuns and Other Essays," Sister M. Madelena.

THERE IS NO SATURATION POINT FOR HONEST VALUE

Honest value is a priceless commodity. Every purchaser seeks it, but not always with complete success.

During periods of careful buying he takes unusual pains to find it, and products of inferior merit fail to attract his patronage.

Reports then circulate that the "saturation point" in the automobile market has been reached, when in reality there will NEVER be a saturation point for honest value.

During the first six months of this year, for instance, Dodge Brothers sold 207,115 motor cars and trucks. This represents a gain of 49.3 per cent over the first six months of 1925, and continues Dodge Brothers in the enviable position of THIRD IN THE INDUSTRY.

For the three weeks ending July 17th, 23,862 motor cars and trucks were delivered to customers—an increase of 62.4 per cent over the same period last year, and impressive evidence that Dodge Brothers great sales gain is continuing through the quiet weeks of mid-summer.

The more carefully people investigate and compare, detail by detail, the factors that constitute genuine motor car value, the more inevitably Dodge Brothers market expands and will continue to expand, year after year.

WISCONSIN WEATHER

Fair tonight and Sunday; slightly warmer in east portion Sunday.

WEATHER CONDITIONS

A low pressure area moving across the eastern and northeastern portion of the country has been attended by rain over much of that territory during the past 24 hours and by fresh to moderately strong winds over the extreme northern lake region. Another low pressure area in the intermountain region is causing rain over the southern plateau. High pressure with generally fair and cool weather now overlies the plain states and is expected to dominate conditions in this section over the weekend, with generally fair and cool weather.

KIWANIS CLUBS ARE CLOSING UP FARM-CITY GAP

Contrive Plans to Bring Farmer and City Dweller Closer Together

Madison—(AP)—Kiwaniis clubs of Wisconsin are using their influence to iron out the difference between the farmer and city man and bring about understanding and mutual helpfulness.

From a humble start the work has grown until 33 of the 45 clubs in the Wisconsin-Upper Michigan district are bending their efforts towards this phase of the rural-urban relations. By various methods, the clubs are creating additional interest of the urbanite in the agricultural field and contriving plans for bringing the two groups together. The work is fostered by the agricultural committee and the district program is directed by Prof. J. H. Kolb, agricultural economist of the University of Wisconsin.

"The purpose of the committee is the realm of human relationship rather than any phase of technical agriculture," Prof. Kolb explained. "It is in the field of understanding and of mutual helpfulness."

"So much emphasis has been given in some quarters to town and country differences and antagonisms that it is a matter of great encouragement for such an organization as Kiwanis International to throw its whole emphasis upon interdependencies and upon building up confidences."

"The biggest thing after all is understanding. There are some very decided differences between the city man and the farmer which have got to be threshed out. If you get understanding some of the sharp edges appear not so sharp as you thought they were."

Prof. Kolb believes that community relations of confidence are not built up without plan and purpose and he therefore has suggested a program upon which the clubs are working. Kiwanians are being encouraged to interest themselves in boy's and girl's club work, do some type of work encouraging farm boys and taking more meetings to the farm in the country. Prof. Kolb has suggested that the clubs might encourage farm boys in agricultural education through offering scholarships or helping authorities establish and maintain proper courses in which to school the next generation of farmers.

Raymond Fose, In Navy 17 Years, Returns To Appleton

Bombardment of Vera Cruz, Mexico, early during the World War to prevent a German warship from unloading supplies and ammunition at that port, was described by Raymond J. Fose, 222 E. Washington-st., who has received honorable discharge from the United States navy after 17 years of service, as his most exciting experience while in the employ of Uncle Sam. Mr. Fose, who was chief carpenter's mate, received his discharge July 21 and was transferred to the fleet naval reserve subject to call in emergency.

He is 36 years old, having enlisted at the age of 19 at Appleton.

He joined the navy 17 years ago when he was sent to the naval training station at Newport, Rhode Island, where he was in training almost two months. Then he was transferred to the repair ship Panther.

He was stationed on the Panther, the first repair ship the navy put on the water, two years. From there the Panther, a similar ship, which tended submarines and destroyers was his next home for four years, after which he was transferred to the Mt. Vernon, an old German liner formerly called the Kron Prince Cecilie. It was a 32,000 ton steamer, and was made over into a United States transport during the war, completing 16 trips at regular intervals. Each trip required 21 days.

Early on the morning of Sept. 6, 1916 while the crew was at breakfast, the ship was torpedoed while cruising 250 miles off the coast of France in the Bay of Biscay. The torpedo ripped a huge hole in the side of the ship, and exploded in the engine room, killing 36 men. The ship reached port at Brest, France, although leaking badly, and was repaired temporarily. Permanent repairs were made at Boston.

This same transport carried a number of Appleton men back from France, Mr. Fose said. In 1919 he was sent to headquarters of the Third Naval District at New York City. From the navy yard he transferred onto the Rappahannock, a refrigerator ship, and from that boat to the Williamson, Destroyer No. 244, on which he again sailed for Europe, visiting many foreign countries, including Turkey, Russia, Bulgaria, Greece, France, Egypt, Roumania, Italy, and Algiers during a five year period. Following this cruise he was stationed at the American Embassy at Constantinople, leaving there on May 20 of this year and arriving at New York City July 11. The next two weeks he spent in that city, waiting for his discharge and transfer. Mr. Fose intends to enter business.

APPROVE PLANS FOR CONCRETE ROADS IN STATE

Estimated Cost of New Undertakings in Wisconsin Totals $707,606

Madison—(AP)—Plans for federal concrete highway construction projects whose total cost is estimated at $707,606.89 have been approved by the Wisconsin highway commission.

The commission at its meeting this week approved projects which will bring additional hard surfaced highways to Barron, Rusk, Green, Lafayette, Rock and Jefferson-cos. and also made many other plans for the improvement of the state highway system.

Finnegan flats, five miles south of Mauston which has afforded much trouble and is impassable in the spring will be paved. The commission set aside sufficient funds to pave a stretch 1.2 miles long with concrete.

Marathon-co, which will be given aid from the free fund, is completing its proposed construction of 140 miles of concrete highways under a contemplated five year program to start in 1927. The cost is estimated at $4,200,000 and it is proposed to issue bonds for $3,000,000. This was approved by the commission which expressed by resolution "belief that the county could reasonably expect aid from the free fund to the extent of $400,000."

The federal highway projects which the commission approved are: Cameron-Weyerhaeuser road, Barron and Rusk-cos, estimated cost $185,937; Juda-Monroe road, Green-co, estimated cost $276,116.33; Shullsburg-Benton road, Lafayette-co, estimated cost $11,942; and Janesville-Fort Atkinson road, Rock and Jefferson-cos, $101,607.

The commission has appropriated $50,000 to pave with concrete, a 1.8 mile stretch of state trunk highway 22 in Green Lake-co providing the county use $50,000 to lay an equal amount of concrete on highway 34 between Berlin and Oshkosh. Green-co asked the commission to pave highway 34 but the commission found it could not because it was not a through route.

Highway grade separations in Eau Claire, Sheboygan and St. Croix-co received the attention of the commission.

The highway body ordered a grade separation on state trunk highway 12 near Fairchild on the St. Paul, Minneapolis and Omaha railroad line

TO REVISE HIGHWAY NUMBERING SYSTEM

Madison—(AP)—Wisconsin's highway numbering system will be revised to conform to the federal system. The revision has been decided upon by the state highway commission to avoid confusion. There will be no state numbers on federal highway routes in the state it was announced. No state trunk highway will bear the same number as any federal route in the state.

TO TEST STATUTE ON NOMINATIONS

Failure to Comply With Law in Monroe-co Cause of Test Case

Madison—(AP)—Opportunity for a test of the statute regulating nomination requirements for political office has developed in Monroe-co. It was learned Friday at the secretary of state's office.

Prohibition candidates filed nomination papers from one sixth of the precincts in the county, according to law, but did not obtain the minimum 3 per cent in each precinct. The total number of names on the nomination papers, however, equalled the figure constituting 3 per cent of the 1920 vote in the county for presidential electors on the prohibition ticket.

A. L. Nicol, county clerk of Monroe-co, referred the question to the secretary of state, who suggested that he decline to place the names on the primary ballot on the grounds where two Fort Atkinson persons were killed recently.

An agreement has been reached, it was announced, for apportionment of costs in relocating the Plymouth-Kiel road in Sheboygan-co to divert a portion of the traffic from the crossing of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad.

To afford safe alignment of the highway near St. Croix falls, an agreement has been made with the Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie Railway company, to reconstruct the trestle.

they did not comply with the statute. Mr. Nicol was informed that the candidates may apply to the circuit court for an order to the clerk to put their name on the ballot.

This was done in 1922 when State Senator A. E. Garey of Rock county failed to file his papers with the Rock county clerk before the time expired, having first filed by mistake with the secretary of state.

The point at issue is the construction of that portion of the statute referring to the minimum three per cent of the presidential elector vote.

The law reads: "Nomination papers shall be signed by at least three per cent of the party vote in at least one sixth of the election precincts of such district."

Electrical Refrigeration at Its Best

Built by Famous Authorities on More Than 25 Years of Refrigerating Experience

Economical to Operate and with Year Round Reliability and Trouble-free Operation

This, Madam, is the iceless machine, built by authorities of world-wide recognition in scientific circles.

For 25 years, in laboratory and in practical service, they have studied, aided and led in every advancement of household, mechanical and business refrigeration.

The Absopure Refrigerator is the mature product of all this study and manufacturing experience—a simple, wonderfully efficient machine of unvaried dependability. In hundreds of tests it has demonstrated extra margins of efficiency, reliability and economy far above all other machines tested. It reduces service problems almost to nil, because most sources of trouble are definitely eliminated in this design.

In materials, workmanship and quality it is not surpassed by the costliest machines built. And because of the manufacturing economy of its design and volume methods of production, it holds outstanding price advantage, in every comparison.

Easy for You to Own Lowest First Cost—Convenient Terms of Payment

For a low first payment and terms to suit your convenience you can enjoy the utility and dependable service of the Absopure Refrigerator in your present ice box, or in any of the beautiful cabinet models of the Absopure line. You pay almost as you would pay for ice.

And you add to the equipment of your home a convenience of daily and continuous usefulness, and of good housekeeping pride.

Scores of dainty desserts and salads, easily prepared; and chilled or frozen, just right are at your quick command with the Absopure Refrigerator. Your confections are refrigerated in their individual dishes and served refreshingly cold without trouble or fuss. The rapid freezing characteristic of the Absopure Refrigerator produces ice cubes in faster time than any machines tested by experts. And its operation is positively the most quiet of any machine built.

EKERN AND INDUSTRY

Mr. Ekern states the hitherto unadmitted truth in Wisconsin when he declares that the "interests of all our people are common," and that what is good for business, the farmer and the workingman is fundamentally the same. We would not be surprised if Mr. Ekern really believes what he says. There has been a deal of talk about the state that the attorney-general is not so rampant as his associations and declarations would indicate. Many of the so-called reactionaries have ventured the opinion that they would far rather take a chance with Ekern than with Blaine.

But since when has this doctrine of community of interests of all the people become the philosophy of the Progressives? Certainly that is not the philosophy Mr. Blaine is preaching or has acted, or that his legislatures have practiced. It is their contention that the farmers and laborers are being exploited by the business interests—that is, by the merchants, manufacturers, bankers, etc. That is the whole sum and substance of the difference in this state between the Progressives and the regular Republicans. And it is not the predatory corporations of outside states and the financiers of Wall street that are preying upon the "common people" of Wisconsin, but the manufacturers, the bankers, the merchants within the state, all of whom are classed by the Blaine creed as exploiters and the rotten rich. Take any town in the state, no matter how small, and this political division is made. The president of the local bank is a plutocrat, the head of the mill or factory is the enemy of labor, the merchant is robbing the poor consumer. That is the teaching we have had from the Blaine Progressives—that and nothing else.

Mr. Ekern lauds Wisconsin as a state where its factories are home-owned and home-controlled, while Mr. Blaine brands them as reactionaries, tax-evaders and a social liability, and his legislators hound them to death. Mr. Ekern says Wisconsin's banks are as free from Wall street control as any banks in the country. It is Mr. Blaine's idea that they are the tools of mercenary interests and that they serve no one but big business. Mr. Ekern says the Progressives have always fought the vicious interests, but he forgets that the various interests he is lauding for campaign purposes, like the banks, merchants and manufacturers, are the very ones the Blaine ring has rallied against and has denounced as these self-same "vicious interests."

If there has been one cardinal Blaine doctrine above all others it has been to set one class against another. It has been to unite the farmers and labor into an impossible alliance against the so-called business interests. Mr. Ekern may be sincere himself in his views about the unity of these interests, that Wisconsin banks are the fairest in the land, its manufacturers lilies of the valley and its merchants square and princely fellows, but he is a little late with the encomium as an asset to John J. Blaine.

Speaking of Wisconsin industries, Mr. Ekern at Brillion said: "They need the support and encouragement of government and the right kind of conditions for development." This is an amazing utterance after the record of persecution of industry under the Blaine administration for the last four years. We will not hear

Mr. Blaine himself making any such admission. When some of our best industries have pulled up stakes and left the state because of political hostility Mr. Blaine has said, contemptuously: "Let them go hence." What can Mr. Ekern be thinking of to say a good word for Wisconsin industries, for his banks, for its businessmen? That is heresy for which he ought to be impeached.

BE CAREFUL, FRANCE

The French are not without fables in their literature. Doubtless they are familiar with the one about the killing of the goose that laid the golden egg. They might employ it, with a little common-sense, in their attitude toward American tourists. Reports from Paris are to the effect that our tourists are being subjected to insults and annoyances by Frenchmen, as a means of showing their dislike of the United States for insisting upon payment of European debts, which is blamed for the collapse of the franc and the political crisis in that country.

Frenchmen are not going to get very far with these kind of tactics. They ought to know American character better than to attempt it. Germany found out some things about American character in the war which quite effectually and for all time opened her eyes. Not only do these hostile demonstrations have the contrary effect on American opinion they are designed to have, but they are a short-sighted act as a matter of plain business policy. For every unkind thing France says about the United States and for every exhibition of hostility toward American tourists, the determination of America to collect will be strengthened.

A careful estimate by the department of commerce shows that American visitors abroad last year spent $660,000,000 in foreign countries. An unofficial estimate of the French National Tourist office indicates that nearly a third, or approximately $226,000,000 of this amount, was spent in France. It has been estimated by a London authority that British and Americans together spend $5,000,000 a day in France during the height of the tourist season, and of course the most of this is spent by the Americans. This business is worth keeping. It may not be so profitable this season, when the franc has been steadily falling, but it has been highly profitable in the past and it will be highly profitable in the future.

The trouble with the Frenchman is that he is blaming the United States for ills that are of his own making. Nine-tenths of the troubles from which he is now suffering may be traced to his own authorship. The United States has done more for Europe than Europe appreciates. It stands ready to do a great deal more, but it is not a nation to be made a monkey of or to be imposed upon by tricky statesmen, militarists and emotional agitators. The thing for France to do, if she is wise, is to suppress her grouches and treat our country with the consideration our purse and good will merits.

A VAST JOKE

How congress must have chuckled up its sleeve when it passed the Wainwright bill creating a congressional board of visitors to inspect and report to congress upon the government and conditions in the Philippine Islands! For this precious bill provides that the board shall make a trip to the islands every two years to gather information!

Think of it. Three senators and five house members having a glorious vacation every other summer, world without end. Amen. At the expense of the government. And for what? What do they expect to be able to find out in visits made every other summer? It amounts to a pleasant junket at the taxpayers' expense with nothing achieved at the end. A vast joke, indeed.

This is no way to handle the situation. It is only dallying along with it in the same way that has disgusted the Filipino and the thinking American alike. If a commission is needed to study the conditions in these islands, let some commission be appointed, outside of congress, responsible to the president, which shall go to the islands, stay there, make an exhaustive study and return within a reasonable time.

When better autos are built we ought to have better drivers.

Anyway, one man's his brother's keeper. Sheriff at Penn Yan, N. Y., arrested his own brother.

You can wrap things in yesterday's newspaper. But what can the French do with yesterday's cabinet?

WHAT CLIMATE FOR ASTHMA?

A Illinois man asks whether a change of climate will relieve him of bronchitis from which he suffers mainly in the winter season, the attacks then "sometimes going into bronchial asthma." He has found the climate of northern Wisconsin kind to his trouble in the summer, which he ascribes to the dry atmosphere and higher altitude of that region. He wonders whether a place where the winters are long and cold and the atmosphere clear would be better the year round.

A Michigan woman asks for a discussion of bronchial asthma and particularly the relation of climate to this disease.

Similar inquiries come in daily. Although it had not occurred to me before, I have formed a general impression that bronchial asthma is less prevalent in the northern and moderately elevated regions than it is in the southern and lower altitudes—but since I began keeping tabs on such inquiries I have found that I receive relatively as many from, say, the vicinity of Duluth, Minn., as from Newark, N. J., which may be ascribed to chance, and so may the bronchial asthma rate in a given region.

The Illinois man's trouble may not be bronchial asthma at all. His brief description rather suggests chronic bronchitis with emphysema. An annually recurring winter cough is ordinarily due to chronic bronchitis. Accompanying chronic bronchitis in many cases there is a dilation or ballooning of the air cells of the lung, which produces more or less constant wheezing, and this wheezing is often called "asthma." In true bronchial asthma, however, the wheezing and difficulty of breathing is not constant, but only present during a seizure or attack which may last a few hours or a few days. In the intervals between attacks the breathing is normal. An individual with chronic bronchitis or other disease of the respiratory organs may also be subject to asthma, of course, but in the majority of cases of constant wheezing or constant shortness of breath or difficulty of breathing, the trouble is not asthma.

So far as change of climate is concerned it doesn't matter very much whether the trouble is chronic bronchitis, emphysema or true spasmodic asthma, although the chance of benefit from a change of climate is greater in the case of bronchitis or emphysema than in the case of true asthma. No better rule can be formulated than the Illinois man reasonably clear, reasonably dry atmosphere and moderately high altitude, there he is likely to be most comfortable. When the condition is accompanied with considerable expectoration, the drier climate, whether warm or cold is preferable. When there is little expectoration, a moist climate is preferable.

Younger patients find the higher altitudes in Colorado, New Mexico, and Arizona helpful. Older patients prefer the moderate altitudes in the Adirondacks or the mountain resorts in western North Carolina. Southern California offers a warm dry climate. Florida and the Bermudas a moist warm climate.

True asthma is usually caused by protein poisoning. For instance, the dander from a canary or a dog. Therefore a change of residence sometimes brings complete relief—simply because the victim happens to get away from the canary or the dog. Such coincidence contribute much toward the reputation of certain climates for the cure of asthma.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Deflected Septum

Owing to an accident to my nose I have a deviated septum and consequently the nose is unshape-ly and causes me much humiliation. Do you believe plastic surgery will straighten out the difficulty? Does the paraffin injected in the tissue become a tumorous mass eventually? (V. J.)

Answer—Often an operation to straighten the septum will correct the external deformity, in a young person. Any good nose and throat surgeon can do that. Paraffin is rarely injected into the tissues by reputable surgeons, because of the frequency of the disastrous tumor formation afterward.

Leagues from Green Bay, Seymour, De Pere, Algoma, Shawano, Black Creek and Sturgeon Bay were represented at the rally.

The residence of T. A. Gallagher, Green Bay-st., was struck by lightning the previous evening. The chimney was shattered and the telephones and electric lights in that neighborhood were put out of commission.

Plans had been completed for a tennis tournament between Appleton players to be held the week of Aug. 30, 31, Sept. 1, 2 and 4. A committee consisting of representatives from the country club, the Prospect tennis club and the Y. M. C. A. was to supervise the tournament.

Walter Schumacher, 812 State-st., died that morning after an illness of 10 days.
Leo Korthelmer of Chilton had accepted a position in the photo finishing department at Volgt drug store.

GAS USER SHOULD KNOW FUEL VALUE FOR AUTOMOBILE

Often Overlooks Savings in Proper Product for Motor,
Says Haskin

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN
Washington, D. C.—The average owner and driver of an automobile thinks about gasoline only when he has to pay his monthly bill for it or when he is caught without a supply out on the road where he will have trouble and extra expense in getting his tank filled, and when he does think about it, about all he thinks is that "gas is gas." Men who operate fleets of trucks, however, have to provide the food for their insatiable maws are learning that it is highly important for the gasoline user to know something about the product he is using and that the savings in the use of a suitable motor fuel are quite as definite as any others that may be effected.

As a result, various commercial organizations have gone into the business of testing gasoline for their members, and are urging them to submit samples and get reports before making large or long time contracts for gas.

If carried far enough, this may in turn result in a general improvement in the quality of gasoline. It is said for producers of this highly essential fuel know only too well that approximately one-half of the total amount of gasoline consumed in the United States is used by motor trucks and other commercial vehicles. If high standards are insisted upon by consumers of fifty per cent of the gasoline used in this country, "producers will see that every possible improvement is made in their product."

Experts say that the most important attribute of a good gasoline is a proper degree of volatility. It must contain enough easily volatile matter to start readily in cold weather and must vaporize with sufficient ease to burn completely in the average automobile. It must not be too volatile, mixture, but it must not be high evaporator. Investigations have shown that under summer conditions the degree of volatility has little effect on fuel economy, but that at winter temperatures a gas of low volatility gives a somewhat lower mileage per gallon than a more volatile fuel.

EFFECT ON LUBRICATING OIL

Both in summer and winter the dilution of the lubricating oil increases as the volatility of the gasoline decreases. With any given gasoline the degree of dilution is higher "during cold weather" than during "warm weather." The gasoline should not contain any considerable percentage of heavy or "non-volatile" constituents which can not be completely vaporized and which cause dilution of the oil in the crank case.

Good gas will be found not to contain any material that leaves a residue to collect in the motor after combustion. It should be free from substances that attack metal either before or after combustion. Unremoved acid from the refining process may cause such trouble.

Neither the gasoline nor its products of combustion should have a strong disagreeable odor. The gas itself should be free from water or sediment or other foreign material, and properly refined gas should be water white.

The constantly increasing demand

Saving you money on the things you can't save on by going without

On the items that you MUST have and can't get out of—the necessities that you can't get along without—and still come out on College-Ave.

That's where we strive to show our customers a saving—perhaps only 25 to 50 cents on something small but enough to make it interesting for the men who wouldn't think of letting out their money at less than 6% interest.

tion Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C.

Q. Has the Sesquicentennial a name that corresponds to the "White City" which housed the Columbian Exposition at Chicago? P. A. L.

A. Philadelphia exposition is known as the "Rainbow City." The buildings for gasoline has required extensive research and experimentation by the manufacturer for the purpose of developing production process to a high degree of efficiency and economy, and this has resulted in new procedures which have greatly increased production. Important supplementary methods now used for this purpose include the so-called cracking process of heavy petroleum oil and extraction from natural gas.

ADVANCE IN TEN YEARS

In 1913 about 1,250,000,000 gallons of gasoline were produced in the United States, and the yield was 12.5 per cent of the crude oil. Ten years later the annual production was 7,555-000,000 gallons and the yield was 30 per cent of the crude oil. This is regarded as a very remarkable showing, and it is said that further advances may be made—indeed, are now being made.

Q. Are honeys that are dark in color, stronger in taste? T. T.
A. Generally speaking, the darker honeys have richer flavor. Some light honeys, however, have pronounced characteristic flavors.

Q. What color should clothes be to be coolest in the summer time? L. W.

A. White is best, then gray, and yellow.

Q. What are rune stones? N. S.

A. They are stones or monuments on which are engraved runes—the earliest form of the Teutonic alphabet.

Q. Could the Sahara Desert be converted into an inland sea? B. M.

A. The Sahara is, generally speaking, a tableland 13,000 to 16,000 feet above sea level. This fact would interfere seriously with such a plan.

Q. Were there instances during our Civil War when troops were affected by scurvy? A. C. T.

A. It is estimated that at least 15 per cent of the deaths in the Civil War were caused by scurvy.

Q. What is the origin of the term dunce? H. A. S.

A. Dunce is a word introduced by the disciples of Thomas Aquinas in ridicule of the disciples of John Duns Scotus, who, although a man of subtle intellect, was held by the more ignorant or prejudiced at the time of the Reformation to be a man of invincible stupidity.

Q. Please tell something about the Ruskin Commonwealth.

A. The Ruskin Commonwealth
traces its origin to J. A. Wayland, who wrote in "The Coming Nation"
a paper first published in Greensburg, Indiana, April 29, 1893. The original site of the commonwealth was Tennessee City, Tennessee. The site was unwisely chosen because the land was poor. The colony then moved to Cat-tles Mills, Tennessee. As the result of internal dissension, over 250 of the colonists moved to Duke, Georgia, and a new community was erected, about six miles from Waycross in Ware County. The principal industries were woodworking, broom making, the manufacture of leather belts, and penders, and cereal coffee.

Eagles Will Give Picnic For Children

A special program of games and contests for children and grown-ups, has been arranged for the annual children's picnic to be given Sunday at Pierce park under the auspices of Fraternal Order of Eagles. The children and their parents are to meet at 12:30 Sunday at Eagle hall where they will be presented with American flags and tickets for refreshments and the first prize. A parade will be formed in front of the hall and at 1 o'clock promptly will march to the park. The Eagle Drum and bugle corps will lead the parade. Children who are too small to march to the park will be taken in a truck. Hubert Wettstein, Charles NaGreen, John Jansen, Edward Lafond and Charles Lehman will furnish music during the afternoon and the drum corps will play several selections.

It was decided at a meeting of the picnic committee Friday night in Eagle hall that in case of rain, the picnic would be held at Eagle hall. The Ladies Auxiliary of Eagles will have charge of ice cream, soft drink and hamburger stands and the fish ponds. Henry Staedt is in charge of games and contests. Prizes will be awarded in each event.

The picnic committee is composed of Nels Galpeau, Andrew Schiltz, Roy Koester, Henry Staedt, Charles Schimpf, Mrs. John Abendroth, Mrs. Clarence Currie, Mrs. Henry Harp, Mrs. Andrew Schiltz, Mrs. Edward Tornow, Mrs. Peter Rademacher and Mrs. Henry Koester, compose the auxiliary committee.

WOMEN GOLFERS TO HOLD TOURNEY

Women golfers of Riverview Country club will hold their weekly regular weekly tournament on the club links Monday afternoon. A luncheon will be served at the club before the tournament.

CHURCH SOCIETIES

Officers of Olive branch society are to meet at 7:30 Monday night in the basement of Mt. Olive Lutheran church. Important business is to be discussed. Herman Zschaechner will act as president at the meeting because of the absence of Herbert Schult.

Forty-five members of the Women's union of St. John church attended the regular monthly meeting Friday afternoon. Plans for a cake sale to be held Aug. 21 were made. Mrs. H. Schade was appointed chairman of the sale and will be assisted by Mrs. C. Kitter, Mrs. Charles Damshausser and Mrs. Mrs. Charles Freiberg.

It was decided at the meeting of the Brotherhood of Trinity English Lutheran church Friday evening to hold a picnic on Aug. 22 at Algonquin park for members of the Brotherhood and their families. Theodore Misinger is chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements. Other committee members are R. Klabbe and A. Roehl. George Waite had charge of the topic at the meeting Friday night. A discussion on the value of a men's brotherhood in the church was held after the topic.

PARTIES

Members of the Four Leaf Clover club entertained at a dinner party Friday noon at Snider's restaurant in honor of Mrs. Arthur Wetzel, who recently returned from Cedar Lake. Covers were laid for eight. After the dinner cards were played at Mrs. Wetzel's home at 213 W. Franklin-st. Prizes were won by Mrs. Joseph Schultz, Mrs. Herman Selig and Mrs. Henry Miller.

Miss Mary A. Bestler, 1111 S. Jefferson-st. entertained 12 friends at a shower Thursday night in honor of Miss Stella Dohr who is to be married in September to Henry Leikhen. Dice was played and prizes were won by Miss Margaret Weinfurter and Miss Dorothy Vander Heiden.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Buss, 714 E. Hancock-st. entertained a number of friends at a party Thursday night in honor of Mrs. Buss' sister. Prizes at schafkopf were won by Mrs. Krutchee, Mrs. Walter Glaser, Emil Buss and Miss Gladys Glaser.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Gmeiner entertained at a dinner at 7 o'clock Friday night in the Blue room at the Conway hotel in honor of Mrs. Gmeiner's sister and niece, Mrs. A. Archibald of Watertown and Miss Caroline Brantz of Racine. A theatre party was enjoyed after the dinner.

CARD PARTIES

An open card party will be given at 8 o'clock Monday night at Catholic home by court Ave Maria, 1011, Catholic Daughters of America. Bridge and cards will be played. Mrs. Eugene Walsh is chairman of the committee on arrangements and will be assisted by Miss Joan, Miss Gertrude Besch, Miss Mary Masfield, Mrs. White and Mrs. Patrick Heenen. Thirteen tables were in play at the last of the series of six card parties given by the Missionary society of St. Mary church Friday afternoon in Columbia hall. Prizes at schafkopf were won by David Barry and Mrs. E. Leithen and at bridge by Mrs. P. J. Vaughn. Grand prize at schafkopf was won by Mrs. Leithen and at bridge by Mrs. Michael Garvey. The first of another series of six card parties will be given next Friday afternoon. Mrs. John Murphy is chairman.

KNITTED

The knitted bathing suit is the latest rage in southern California. It is shown here, worn by Miss Margaret Hampton.

BASKET PICNIC SCHEDULED FOR PYTHIAN LODGES

A joint basket picnic for Knights of Pythias lodges from Appleton, Neenah, Green Bay and Manitowoc will be held Sunday at Maribel caves. The picnic will be for knights and their families. Automobiles are to take highway 15 to DePere and 96 from there to Maribel caves which is located on highway 16 between Manitowoc and Green Bay.

Contests between the lodges have been arranged by the committee in charge of the picnic. Entertainment will consist of a tug to war, horse shoe, volleyball, running races and other games and contests. One of the features of the afternoon's entertainment will be a baseball game between the Green Bay and Appleton lodges and the Neenah and Manitowoc lodges. The winning teams will play an elimination game for a loving cup which will be offered.

Theodore Brunke is chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements for the picnic. Other committee members are Robert Schmidt, Fred Schiltz and E. E. Cahall.

LODGE NEWS

Konemic lodge of Odd Fellows will meet at 8 o'clock Monday night at Odd Fellow hall. Regular business is scheduled.

There will be a regular monthly meeting of Catholic Knights of Wisconsin at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the Catholic home. Routine business will be discussed.

About 35 members of the Women's Relief corps, Auxiliary to the Grand Army of the Republic attended the meeting Friday afternoon at Odd Fellow hall. Ten comrades from Appleton and Neenah posts of the Grand Army were guests at the meeting. A lunch and social followed the business session.

PICNICS

Members of the West End Reading club were entertained at a picnic Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Otto Kuchmsted, 108 S. Lawe-st. A picnic supper was served. Twenty members were present.

HOME GROWN POTATOES ARE PLACED ON MARKET

Home grown potatoes were placed on sale on the Appleton market last week and are retailing at from 30 to 50 cents per peck. The price will not drop much below the present market quotations, according to local dealers. Home grown sweet eating corn was placed on sale Saturday at 25 cents per dozen ears. This price will probably drop within the next week. Head lettuce retailed at 20 cents per head and leaf lettuce at 10 cents per bunch. Green onions were selling at two bunches for 15 cents and carrots at 10 cents per bunch. Home grown tomatoes were selling at 20 cents per pound, but tomatoes are plentiful and the price will probably drop.

Cucumbers are selling at from 5 to 15 cents apiece and beets at 10 cents a bunch. String beans retailed at 10 cents a pound and cabbage at 5 cents a pound. Celery was selling at from 15 to 20 cents a bunch. Parsley retailed at 15 cents a pound and cauliflower at 25 cents a head.

AUXILIARY OF WAR VETERANS PLANS PICNIC

Plans for a picnic to be held Aug. 20 at Waverly beach were made at the meeting of the Auxiliary of Spanish American War Veterans Friday night at the armory. Mrs. Rose Morris is general chairman of arrangements. The picnic will be for members of the auxiliary and the Charles O. Baer camp.

The auxiliary was divided into two teams to compete for the largest number of new members in a membership campaign which started Friday night and will continue until Sept. 1. Mrs. Mildred Zerbe was appointed captain of one team and Mrs. Edith Grunert captain of the other. The losing team will entertain the winning team at a banquet at the close of the campaign.

Household Hints

EVER THINK OF IT
A common paving brick makes an excellent stand for your iron.

ALWAYS HANDY
Skim milk makes a very acceptable substitute for starch water for giving up the desired amount of stiffness to organdies or laces.

COUNCIL WILL AWARD $30,000 SEWER WORK

Contracts for sewer work on eight streets estimated to cost approximately $30,000 will be awarded at the next regular meeting of the common council Wednesday evening, Aug. 18. Bids for furnishing labor and material and constructing the sewers were opened this week at a meeting of the board of public works and were referred to R. M. Connelly, city engineer, for tabulation. Incomplete tabulation shows that the low bid for the work is at least $30,000.

On Tuesday, Aug. 10, the board of public works will take final action on assessments of benefits and damages on the sewers so that contracts can be awarded at the council meeting. Bids were on sewers for Kernan-ave, Outagamie, Winnebago, Summit, Morrison, Cedar and Harrison-sts.

Red Hot Band Sun. Green-ville.

FASHION HINTS

BLACK VELVET
Velvet plays a prominent part in the midsummer mode. The velvet coat and the small velvet hat are the smartest things you can wear. Black is, of course, the proper color.

FOR SPORT WEAR
Red and white plaid alpaca is used effectively to line a wrap of heavy white silk.

VERY DECORATIVE
A very attractive pink chiffon frock is very simply made and trimmed only with a corsage of rhinestones—a bow effect and long fringe of the brilliants.

VERY EFFECTIVE
Wide metallic ribbon with gold and silver threads interwoven to form a pattern, is liked for sashes and for trimmings for evening gowns.

FOR THE BEACH
Short sport coats of printed linen are particularly attractive in black and white, worn with pink or bright red crepe de chine frocks.

FANCY BELTS
Wide and narrow belts of gold or silver kid are used effectively on chiffon tailored frocks.

COLORED GLOVES
Washable kid gloves come in the new pastel shades, and shoes come in colored kid and buckskin as well as in linen.

TRADITIONAL FROCK
The lingerie frock made after the French fashion with colored, handkerchief linen or georgette and fine laces and embroidery is extremely popular now.

DYED LACE AND CREPE
Some of the simplest yet at the same time the most charming of summer frocks are made of dyed lace over crepe de chine slips of the same color.

JUST WHAT YOU NEED
For warm summer evenings a wrap of pleated chiffon collared with light summer fur is a most satisfying possession.

MORE MATURE
Long-waisted and long-sleeved

WANT LOT PLACED IN COMMERCIAL DISTRICT

Action on a request of William Newman, 217 W. Pacific-st, that lot 1, of block 6, Second ward plat, Second ward, be placed in the commercial and light manufacturing district, will be taken at a meeting of the city plan commission next week at the city hall. The date has not been set for the meeting, according to Mayor A. C. Rule, chairman of the committee.

Mr. Newman states that the lot, which is a triangular piece of property between N. Bates, N. Dunlap and W. Pacific-st, now contains a house and barn. However, if the commission will place it in the commercial and light manufacturing district, he will tear down the buildings and erect a filling station there. The district runs within a half-block from the lot and it would merely be an addition to the district.

Members of the plan commission are Mayor Rule, R. M. Connelly, city engineer, Alderman C. D. Thompson, Charles Boyd, William H. Timm and Professor O. P. Fairfield.

MEETING OF CHURCH BOARD IS POSTPONED

The meeting of the church board of First Baptist church, which was to have been held Friday evening to award the heating, wiring, painting and plumbing contracts for the $40,000 addition to the church, was postponed until Saturday evening. The general contract was awarded to George Ashman, contractor, and excavation of the basement was started last week. The addition is to be completed about Nov. 1.

Gowns with crush girdle over the hips are delightfully picturesque models for women who like the unusual but find the bouffant robe de style a bit unsuited to their type.

VERY PRACTICAL
Navy blue is increasingly popular as the season advances. In georgette crepe and in foulard it is seen in the largest quantities.

TAILORED EFFECT
Rows of scalloping, giving the effect of many tunics, trim some of the new chiffon frocks.

IS KILLED IN FALL DOWN ELEVATOR SHAFT

Gilbert Corcoran, 32, formerly of Kaukauna, was instantly killed Thursday when he fell down an elevator shaft in a cannery factory at New Rochelle, Ill., where he was employed. Death resulted from a broken neck, according to a telegram received Friday by relatives at Kaukauna, but other details were lacking.

Mr. Corcoran was widely known in Kaukauna, having moved from that city to New Rochelle about six years ago with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Barney Corcoran. His mother is the sister of R. H. McCarty, Kaukauna chief of police.

The body will be taken Sunday morning to the home of a sister, Mrs. Henry Minkolege, Taylor-st, Kaukauna. Funeral services will be held at 9 o'clock Monday morning at Holy Cross Catholic church, and will be in charge of the Rev. Mgr., F. J. Lochman. Burial will be made in the Holy Cross Catholic cemetery.

POLICE NAB ALLEGED DESERTER FROM ARMY

Joseph Helmrath, 22, alleged deserter from the United States army, was arrested Friday evening at an Appleton hotel by Detective Sergeant John Duval. Helmrath who was a musician in the army, is alleged to have deserted about four days after he had reenlisted, having completed his first enlistment. He deserted, Appleton police say, about two months ago. Sergeant Duval took Helmrath to Fort Sheridan, Ill., the nearest army post, early Saturday morning. Helmrath's parents live in Appleton on College-ave.

CALL FOR BIDS FOR NEW TRAFFIC LIGHTS

Sealed bids for installing city traffic signal lights at the corner of College-ave and Oneida-st were called for Saturday by E. L. Williams, city clerk. The bids will be accepted up to 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, Aug. 18. Only lights approved by the Wisconsin Highway commission will be considered. The lights will be installed temporarily on 60-day approval.

KESHENA WATER POWER HEARING IS POSTPONED

Postponement of the public hearing on the application of the Wisconsin Power and Light company of Madison for a preliminary permit for water power development on the Menominee Indian reservation at Keshena, was granted at the request of the company. Date and time of the hearing have been changed from 2 o'clock in the afternoon of Sept. 2, to 2 o'clock in the afternoon of Sept. 16. The hearing will be conducted by Major John J. Kingman in United States engineer's office, 406 Federal building Milwaukee.

GRADE BOULEVARD ON S. CHERRY-ST

KIMBERLY GIVES

SOFTBALL TEAM

22 TO 10 LESSON

Errors and Inability to Make Hits Count Spells Defeat for Specials

Kaukauna—Muford's Specials, local softball team, received a lesson in the game from the Kimberly Club House Specials Friday evening at the municipal playgrounds. When the Kimberly instructors finished with the local pupils the score was 22 to 10 in favor of the millmen. And worse yet, Kimberly beat Kaukauna at its own game. The Kimberly team plays a Kimberly with a 12 inch ball and was not used to the 17 inch ball used by Kaukauna teams.

The only thing that can be said for the locals is that they were swamped by a team composed of the pick of the Kimberly softball league. Muford put up a terrible exhibition of softball and error upon error was committed by both outfielders and infielders. A Youngberg pitched a fairly good game for Kaukauna but he had poor support.

Many errors were committed at first and third. It was Kaukauna's bad day for "Babe" Berens. Kaukauna's best and most dependable left fielder, was even off form and muffed several for the first time this season.

Dohr, Kimberly pitcher, pitched a whirlwind of a game and only in the last frames did he let up and then when he had many runs for a lead. Things looked even in the first inning when both sides scored four players, but one thing was quite noticeable and that was that Kimberly could hit a 17 inch ball just as well as they could their own 12 inch ball. The millmen scored 7 in the second while the locals brought home only one.

Kaukauna crawled up on her opponents in the third when two runs came home. Kimberly scored once more in the fourth. Kaukauna got one each in the fifth, sixth and seventh while Kimberly was counting five, four and one in the same innings. Kaukauna will play at Kimberly next week.

Kimberly lineup: Williams, Dohr, Pohlmann, Harpe, Courchane, Bailing, Dupont, Hopkins, Vandezanden, Moderson and Sandhofer.

Kaukauna: Youngberg, Robideau, Rennieke, Webster, Hass, Michel, Haas, Anderson, S. Berens, A. Berens, Brenzel and Olm.

Score by innings: 4 7 0 1 5 4 1—22
Kimberly 4 1 2 0 1 1 1—10
Batteries: Kimberly—Dohr and Williams; Kaukauna—Youngberg, Webster and Robideau and Haas.

TRAPSHOOTERS HOPE

TO DOWN MANITOWOC

Kaukauna—Kaukauna's trapshooting team will attempt to dislodge Manitowoc from first place in the Northeastern Wisconsin Trapshooters league at a registered shoot at Manitowoc Sunday. Many other marksmen will seek high gun honors and vent prizes. The gun club is located on the Two River-Manitowoc road about two miles from Manitowoc.

INDIAN BAND TO PLAY

AT CHURCH OUTING

Kaukauna—The Onelda Indian band will furnish music at the picnic of St. Paul's congregation at the Combined Locks park Sunday afternoon. Several baseball games have been scheduled between local talent. Many Kaukauna people will journey to Combined Locks to attend the picnic. There will be athletic contests for children as well as entertainment for the grown-ups.

JUNIOR FLYING CLUB

RELEASES 100 PIGEONS

Kaukauna—About 100 young pigeons belonging to members of the Kaukauna Junior Flying club were released at Waupaca at 7 o'clock Saturday morning and were expected back here at noon. The race was only a trial flight and no winner will be selected until the 100 miles station is reached.

Six hundred birds belonging to the Green Bay Pigeon club were released here at about 7:30 by the expressman in a trial flight for that club. Joseph Lefevre, local city attorney, flew about 25 of his birds.

We wish to take this opportunity to publicly thank our friends, neighbors and relatives for their sympathy as well as their beautiful floral offerings and help during our recent bereavement.

We wish also to thank Rev. Bostcher for his kind words and spiritual lesson given us at the church and to extend our thanks to Mr. Irvin E. Schmidt for the dignified and efficient as well as professional manner in which he performed his duties during the death and burial of our dear wife and mother.

Threshing Crews Preparing to Start Work Within Another Week

Special to Post-Crescent

New London—Farmers of this community concede that despite the early summer's deluge of rains and the aftermath of drought, they have nothing to fear in their grain harvest. The threshing season is at hand and the crop is satisfactory.

With the shortening days and the evening concerts of crickets comes another sound which to the minds of a farming community means the beginning of the end of summer. The sound is that of night-moving threshing outfits.

The first threshing outfit of the community to take to the road is owned by Rudolph Hilde, who resides on a farm south of this city. He, with his crew of six men will start work early next week.

YOU see many mantels that look something like this Curtis Mantel, C-615, but they are not quite so pleasing to the eye, so attractive in the room.

Why not? Because they lack the graceful proportions and the subtle beauty of delicate moldings that give character to this Curtis design.

In mantels it is so easy to get the shelf too wide or too long; and the moldings underneath too heavy or too sharp or too something.

FARM PROBLEMS ARE CONCERN TO CITY RESIDENT

Higher Price for Farm Products Means Higher Cost of Living

BY CHARLES P. STEWART
Washington—The western farmer's troubles mean a deal more to the city man than the latter realizes.

The western farmer, yes. The eastern farmer's in a somewhat different class. For reason which will appear, he's not so badly off. But the bulk of America's farming is done in the west.

Western agriculture is sick. If it took medicine and the medicine acted only on western agriculture, for better or for worse, then it would matter only academically to the city man.

But here's a case where western agriculture takes medicine, and the city man, as well as western agriculture, feels the effects.

Soon after Secretary of Agriculture Jardine took office, a western farmer himself, a talk with him. Western agriculture was sick then. I asked him what of. He said in effect:

For many years, farmers went west and got land, for next to nothing, from the government.

As the country settled up, this land grew more and more valuable. The farmer, farmed. Maybe his farming didn't pay. But he was getting rich just the same, because his land was appreciating faster than he was losing money on his crops.

Now all this free land is gone. New arrivals must buy it for what it is worth today. Then they must make money on their products, like manufacturers, or anybody else.

Maye money from whom? From the city man.

The eastern farmer didn't get free land, except in the earliest colonial days.

He made money as a producer from the first, and not as an unscrupulous land speculator, like the western farmer. He's a truck gardener and a dairyman, close to his market. He's a business man, not a pioneer.

His era of increasing land values, if any, was long ago.

The western farmer allowed manufacturing to get ahead of him, with a high protective tariff, and labor to get ahead of him, with immigration restrictions, while he was growing rich, not from agriculture, but as an owner of increasingly valuable land.

Now, for the time being, he's hit, and passed, the peak of his increase, and must make money as a producer.

That some squatter in the 70's died rich, after incredible hardships, does not interest him. What he's concerned with is his problem of today.

He can solve it in one of two ways: More money for his western farm products, which means a higher cost of living for the city man. Congressmen Haugen, prominently the western farm spokesman, says so.

Or he can bring other prices down to his level, by reducing the tariff and by relaxing restrictions, to let more immigrants in. Dr. T. C. Atkinson, presiding genius in Washington for the National Grange, has just endorsed this program, since Congress turned down the Haugen method.

In one case it means that the city man will get what he's getting now, but it will cost him more to live. In the other, it means that his living cost will be reduced, but his income cut down too.

So isn't the farmer's problem a problem for the city man?

Carrying off a bride and a minister to the castle of their chief is one of their big punch scenes. The bride, played by Blanche Sweet, is really in love all the time with the cowboy nobleman but is forced into considering marriage with a hypocritical Baron who has given her the impression: he possesses evidence which would be ruinous to the reputation of her family if it were to be divulged.

What leads up to these situations and a charge of murder being pressed against the cowboy nobleman, played by Roy Stewart, furnishes a story steeped with intrigue, fights, the courtroom and the hangman's rope.

ALARMING BEAUTIES SPORT PARIS MODES IN "STILL ALARM"

A dozen beautiful, mannish, garbed in the most expensive garments of exclusive Hollywood shops, appear in colorful modiste shop scenes in "The Still Alarm," the Universal-Jewel at the Elite theater today and Sunday.

The modiste shop was designed after one of the most famous establishments in Paris and grows whose total cost was more than $50,000 appear in the picture.

The entire shop, and most of the scenes, presenting a sharp contrast to the homely life of the fireman, around which the story is written, was burned to the ground as a climax to the spectacular production.

Helen Chadwick appears as "Madame Celeste," owner of the exclusive shop, and Ed. Marion, whose special comedies to feature roles in special productions has been the sensation of comedies to feature roles in special productions has been the sensation of comedies to feature roles in special productions.

"The Still Alarm" was adapted by Harvey O'Higgins from the popular old stage melodrama of the same name. Edward Laemmle, maker of some of Universal's best production, is credited with the direction.

SCOTCH FIGHTERS INSPIRE TITLE

"The Lady from Hell," title of Associated Exhibitors production at the New Bijou today and Tuesday, is taken from the nickname given the killed soldiers by the Germans during the war. When the Highlanders charged across No Man's Land in the red glare, and the Germans saw these strange, short skirted figures plunging toward them, they called the killed fighters "Ladies from Hell," and beat a rapid retreat.

In the movie by this name, one

MOTHER OF SEVEN CHILDREN

Helped in Caring for them by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Glasgow, Ky.—"I am the mother of seven children, the eldest being only 12 years, and I feel that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has helped to pull me through the roughest places of my married life. At one time I was so downhearted that life was a misery. A friend in Indianapolis, Indiana, told me of the Vegetable Compound, and after taking a few bottles of it I became myself again and it was a pleasure to do my housework and gardening. Since then I always use your medicine when I feel weak from overwork and it straightens me out."

Mrs. MELISSA BARBERS, Route 2, care of O. F. Steenberg, Glasgow, Ky.

New Orleans, La.—"I could not do a thing after my first boy was born. I was so weak, I had no appetite, lost weight and was not able to do my work. I was this way for seven weeks, then I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and got wonderful results from it."

Mrs. C. FAURE, 4014 Dauphine St., New Orleans, La.

ROY STEWART PLAYS "HELL LADY" PART

All of the story ingredients which go to make up a picture satisfying to all moods and ages are to be found in "The Lady from Hell," at the New Bijou Monday and Tuesday.

Four cowboys played by well-known screen comedians furnish most of the laughs. These are interspersed at well timed periods, providing the story with a remarkable latitude as to plot.

These cowboys, who befriend a Scotch nobleman while he is working incognito on a western ranch, follow him back to Scotland. Their leather and wooly chaps and rollicking, former furnish a ludicrous contrast in the Highland Castle with its staid and dignified inhabitants clad in kilts.

PROGRAM WILL CLOSE SCHOOL

Work Performed by Children in Bible Classes Will Be Exhibited

An exhibition and program for mothers and friends of students of First Methodist Bible school will mark the closing of the school on Monday.

The program will take place at 3 o'clock in the afternoon in the gymnasium of the church.

The children will go through the daily program and show the work they have done and the things they learned during the three weeks session. An exhibition of the work done in the manual training, sewing, basketry and kindergarten classes will be on display. Following the exhibition the children will be allowed to take their articles home.

One of the features of the school has been the missionary stories, told twice a week by Mr. J. R. Denyes. Most of the stories were illustrated. Following the stories a penny collection for the missions was taken up and $10 was collected. Mrs. Denyes will send this money to a school in Java.

More than 80 children attended the school. Lessons in daily living, including thoughtfulness, courtesy, cooperation, happiness and clean thoughts and tongues, were stressed.

Other classes in worship, recreation, inspiration and expression were taught. Hymns were studied with the aid of stories and pictures. Calisthenics and organized play was a part of the recreation program.

Mrs. Richard Evan gave a series of talks on Christian living in the home. C. O. Davis and W. E. Smith gave daily talks on Christian conduct in the schools. Dr. J. A. Holmes, pastor of the church, discussed courtesy and happiness. Mrs. J. A. Holmes conducted a class in Bible dramatization.

Miss Esther Miller, secretary of the church, was in charge, assisted by a staff of 10 teachers.

The Picture of A Thousand Thrills!

William RUSSEL
Helene CHADWICK

The most marvelous fire melodrama ever screened! Thrilling? Why, say! You can hear the shriek of the sirens—the clang and clamour of the fire bells—imploping cries of stricken people, trapped in that inferno of fire and flame—the shouts of the fire chiefs—the smoke and flying debris. Dozens of daredevil fireeaters perform miracles of heroism in the face of death. It pulses with romance and life. The big heart throb of the season teeming with action and suspense.

COMPANY CATERS TO DIGGING AND DRILLING JOBS

William Wentlandt, Contractor, Has Complete Assortment of Tools

William Wentlandt, contractor, specializes in digging sewer trenches and cellars, repairing or tearing down foundations, sand blasting and rock drilling. Headquarters of this company are at 1103 N. Lawe-st and the phone number is 404.

Mr. Wentlandt has been in this business here for 32 years and the quality and service of his work is well known. He has completed contracts in practically all Fox River valley cities.

Most of his work is done with an air compressing machine and pneumatic tools. The tool equipment includes spades for digging cellars, sewers, tunnels and other excavating work, rock drills for breaking rocks which are encountered in digging projects, and for drilling holes through brick or stone walls for gas pipes, electric wiring or water works; cement breakers for removing old pavement or tearing down foundations; calkers for tamping caking in pipe lines, and tampers for pounding concrete and for straightening bumps in highways or sidewalks.

The advantage gained by owning such a machine is that all work can be done more quickly and efficiently and at a reduced cost. This is the only machine of its kind in Wisconsin north of Milwaukee.

In addition, the company does sand blasting. Through its method it makes an old brick building look like new at a nominal cost. Many buildings in the valley have been sand-blasted by him and the demand for his services is constantly increasing.

The air compressing machine, owned by the company is mounted on a large truck and can be moved to any part of the Fox River valley. William Wentlandt, Jr., assists his father.

SOFTWOOD ORDER EXCEEDS SUPPLY

City Consumption Has Continued Larger Than Was Expected

The principal softwood producing mills of the country during the week ending July 24 received orders for 5 per cent more lumber than they produced. Prices of some softwood items have advanced, and quotations generally are suffering. City consumption, according to the most recent reports available has continued larger than it was expected to be. June building permits having been only 2 per cent lower than those for June of last year, while the difference is more than made up by the increasing lumber consumption at country points for which building permits figures are not issued. Retail yards generally are holding their stocks to as low a level as possible, and the expansion in rural trade that is now in early prospect will mean a much heavier call on the mills, says the American Lumberman, Chicago.

Producers, therefore, show disinclination to part with their output at the low prices that have prevailed during the summer.

Bookings of West Coast mills reached 3 per cent above production for the week, and for the previous week were 11 per cent above. The Atlantic coast is taking more lumber than it was recently, and absorption of California stocks has revived the coastwise movement from the North-west, while both Japan and Australia are placing some large orders. The rail trade continues to take a good volume.

Southern pine bookings were one per cent below production, as in the preceding week, largely because mill stocks are badly broken in assortment. The mills are holding for better prices, and in fact have advanced dimension 50 cents to a dollar. Most of the demand is from the South and Southwest, where new oil fields are using large quantities of lumber.

The large industrial groups, furniture and automobile makers and the building trades, that are the principal consumers of the hardwoods have continued active, and their buying is putting a little more strength in prices. Southern hardwood production is heavy but the cut for the last two weeks is almost equaled by demand. Northern hardwood production is curtailed, and recent sales have reduced mill stocks. It is believed that the hardwood movement will be considerably larger during fall.

Babson Predicts Large Future In Gas Industry

Babson Park, Mass. — Roger W. Babson said Friday that few people realize the tremendous growth in the use of gas, and the wonderful prospects for future growth. There is a rather widespread idea that since the advent of electricity the use of gas has been rapidly declining. As a matter of fact, growth in consumption over a number of years has been little short of spectacular. Mr. Babson's statement is as follows:

GAS STATISTICS

"Last year aggregate sales of manufactured gas for all purposes amounted to over 421,000,000 cubic feet or almost 9 1/2 times the amount sold in 1890 when the use of gas for lighting was at its height. Only about 20 per cent of the total output of gas is now used for lighting purposes, whereas years ago this was practically its sole use. About 30 per cent of the total output is now being used in industrial plants.

"The use of gas for cooking and water heating as well as for air heat in domestic homes and in public establishments has grown tremendously. It is estimated that there are today almost 10,000,000 gas stoves, 3,000,000 gas water heaters and 4,000,000 gas space heaters in the United States. Last year alone there were sold 800,000 new gas ranges, 450,000 gas water heaters and 500,000 gas space heaters. Installation of house heating systems is a new development and is proceeding at the rate of about 100,000 a year. The new heating load developed by all these uses far exceeds the old lighting load lost to the electric companies.

ADVANTAGES OF GAS

"The reason for this tremendous growth in the use of gas is not hard to understand. Gas heat, like electrical heat, is a clean, convenient and controllable heat. Although not quite so flexible as electrical heat, it is far more so than that derived from coal or oil. As compared with coal its use eliminates the expense and nuisance of coal storage and handling and of ash removal. At rates prevalent during the past it has been more expensive than coal but not so expensive as electricity. On an equivalent basis gas is said to be about one-sixth as expensive as electricity. I understand that an efficient gas manufacturing system extracts up to 85 per cent of the possible heat in coal while in the generation of electricity not more than 15 per cent is made available.

"The advantages of gas for industrial heating purposes are very marked. It has been adapted to literally thousands of industrial processes and this number is growing constantly. Manufacturers find that in processes where gas has been substituted for coal, products of better quality are produced because the gas heat can be perfectly controlled. Furthermore, it has been found that there is generally a marked increase in production. An industrial heating load is of especial value to gas companies in that it is an all year round load. Many companies are making strenuous efforts to enlarge industrial heating.

FUTURE HEATING

"The use of gas by means of specially constructed gas furnaces for the heating of homes promises to become a lusty competitor to coal and oil. It has many obvious advantages over both. Most of the things that are in our homes are there, not for economy but for comfort. Certainly the average householder finds no comfort in fueling the furnace and carrying out ashes. A cleaner and more comfortable method of heating is destined to become popular. Oil has been hailed as the way to get rid of coal but reports available has continued larger than it was expected to be. June building permits having been only 2 per cent lower than those for June of last year, while the difference is more than made up by the increasing lumber consumption at country points for which building permits figures are not issued. Retail yards generally are holding their stocks to as low a level as possible, and the expansion in rural trade that is now in early prospect will mean a much heavier call on the mills, says the American Lumberman, Chicago.

Producers, therefore, show disinclination to part with their output at the low prices that have prevailed during the summer.

Bookings of West Coast mills reached 3 per cent above production for the week, and for the previous week were 11 per cent above. The Atlantic coast is taking more lumber than it was recently, and absorption of California stocks has revived the coastwise movement from the North-west, while both Japan and Australia are placing some large orders. The rail trade continues to take a good volume.

Southern pine bookings were one per cent below production, as in the preceding week, largely because mill stocks are badly broken in assortment. The mills are holding for better prices, and in fact have advanced dimension 50 cents to a dollar. Most of the demand is from the South and Southwest, where new oil fields are using large quantities of lumber.

The large industrial groups, furniture and automobile makers and the building trades, that are the principal consumers of the hardwoods have continued active, and their buying is putting a little more strength in prices. Southern hardwood production is heavy but the cut for the last two weeks is almost equaled by demand. Northern hardwood production is curtailed, and recent sales have reduced mill stocks. It is believed that the hardwood movement will be considerably larger during fall.

apart from the question of price—gas is even better than oil. No storage, no electric motors, no pumps or other devices used by oil heating systems are required when gas is used. Devices now on the market for the burning of gas are fully as safe as oil heating equipment. The chief drawback to the immediate and widespread installation of gas is cost.

"Where natural gas is obtainable in quantity, gas is generally cheaper than anthracite coal. Manufactured gas, however, is in most communities selling at rates which make its use for house heating much more expensive than coal. This is to be changed. Gas companies throughout the country are becoming alive to the tremendous possibilities of heating homes with gas. Several of the large companies like the Peoples Gas Light & Coke company of Baltimore have already in effect a reduced rate for gas used as a fuel. Other companies, for example, Boston Consolidated Gas company, are taking steps to do the same.

"It is expected that for the country as a whole gas for house heating will be available at an average price of about 75c per thousand cubic feet. In the city of Boston where a price of about 55 cents is expected to be put into effect gas heat will be obtainable on a basis equivalent to about $22 a ton for anthracite. Although this appears at first glance to be too much of a difference there are offsetting economies. For example, when a gas furnace is installed another entire household becomes available for various uses of gas. At the Boston rate the use of gas will be only a but more costly than a coal fired furnace handled by a paid furnace man. In other cities where the rate is below the average, gas heat is expected to work out cheaper than anthracite. Where houses under the construction can be properly insulated the installation of gas will render more satisfactory results than where heat radiation is high. In fact this question of wall and window insulation is something which architects should consider immediately.

MAY CAUSE DELAY

"A study of the gas industry shows clearly that in spite of the excellent progress heretofore made in expanding the use of gas the full possibilities of the industry have barely been started. Rates in many cities are still too high for the general adoption of gas for industrial heating, notwithstanding that a large consumption could easily be secured at a good profit. If the rate were lowered, a fixed allowable rate of return on gas companies' investment is one of the drawbacks. With a limit on the amount they are permitted to earn there is but little incentive to initiate new enterprises for the expansion of the business.

"Another factor which has held back many companies from developing the industrial and house heating business is the fear of having large amount of plant idle for the summer months. Even now the greatest need of the industry is for additional summer business. For this reason many companies are on the alert to obtain summertime business and have not done much toward expanding the wintertime load. Notwithstanding these drawbacks, investors in gas securities should greatly benefit from these developments.

REQUIRED NEW CAPITAL

"The rapid expansion of the gas business will require large amounts of new capital. Many of the larger companies are prominent in the general public utility field. In addition to financing through banking houses many have sought to enroll their customers as stockholders. The manufacturing gas industry with equipment and appliance companies included represents an investment of about $4,000,000,000. Before the war annual requirements of new capital were only $125,000,000. Today they are over $500,000,000. The capital of the average gas company according to estimates has increased 6.4 times since 1910 while the value of the output has increased 17 times.

"In view of the fact that gas companies will continue to enlarge their industrial heating load they may be expected to enter the field of house heating on a big scale wherever rate and load conditions make such enterprise worth while. It is only reasonable to anticipate further and large annual demands for new capital. These securities will probably find a good market for gas companies generally are showing good earnings and they have the good will of the public. With an expansion in their market ahead of them, further economies possible through more efficient burning of fuels, and but little prospect of political interference, it is difficult to picture anything but a very profitable future for well managed, well located, enterprising companies.

"Of course, the immediate future price of gas securities depends on general business. Statistics show that the prices of most all stocks go up and down together with the big New York market. Irrespective of the immediate outlook for the special company. General business for the past few months has been sliding off although the Babson chart now stands at 7 per cent above normal. Most gas securities for the long pull, however, should be all right."

PATTERN WORKS BUSY WORKING ON MANY ORDERS

Excellent Business Has Necessitated Increase in Working Force

Owing to increased business, the Appleton Pattern Works, whose office and shop is located at 418 E. Winnebago-st., has been obliged to increase its working force the past few months. The work done by the company is of such high quality and reasonable cost that orders from practically every city in the Fox River valley and from many cities as far south as Kenosha and as far north as Menominee, Mich., are being received.

This company specializes in the manufacture of all kinds of wood and metal patterns for aluminum match plates, follow and moulding boards, plaster and wax patterns and models of all descriptions. Since establishment of the business three years ago, the company has completed six models of paper machines. They also build patterns for worn out or broken parts of machinery.

B. F. Wacholz, proprietor, has had many years experience in pattern making work and is well equipped with a thorough knowledge of patterns to manage a shop of this kind. The company at present has enough orders ahead to keep it going six months.

Most of the wood patterns made are of white pine. Mahogany is used in the more delicate work. For extreme hard usage, cherry and sometimes maple wood is used. Last year the company used 8,000 feet of white pine in the manufacture of their product and about 500 feet of mahogany and some cherry and maple.

The shop, in which the work is done, is equipped with the latest and best machinery for giving efficient and satisfactory service. The equipment includes a disk sander, an electric hand shaper, router, 24 inch plane, 14 inch jointer, a band saw and a cut off saw.

Experiment models of all types are made by the company, who specializes in making patterns of this kind at a reasonable cost.

Harrisburg—(P)—American visitors to Japan within the next decade may be greeted with the sight of native Pennsylvania trees, while the Japanese visitor to the Keystone state will be reminded of his homeland by the sight of well known Japanese varieties.

This all is expected to be worked out through an exchange of tree seeds between the Pennsylvania department of forests and waters and Professor J. Fujukura, forester of Fukuoka, Japan, who spent some time here last year studying the state forests, nurseries and plantations.

LENROOT FAVORS RICH INTERESTS, "BOB" CHARGES

Says Senior Senator Is Attempting to Explain Actions in Washington

"Senator Lenroot's record in congress indicates he has been upholding the so-called financial interests Robert M. La Follette, Jr., told a crowd of between 500 and 600 people at Lawrence Memorial chapel Friday evening, speaking in behalf of the Blaine-Ekern progressive slate. He said Lenroot was elected on the loyalty issue in the reactionary period following the war, and is attempting to explain his actions now.

La Follette's appearance in Appleton was sponsored by the outagamie-co. Farmer-Labor league. The Eagle's Five and Drum corps escorted Senator La Follette to the chapel. Fred E. Bachman, president of the league, presided at the meeting and introduced the speaker. Congressman George A. Schneider of Appleton also occupied the platform.

In opening his address Senator La Follette appealed to the people to turn out at the polls and take advantage of their right to vote.

"Whether you are going to support my principles and candidates or not, come to the polls and exercise your rights," he said.

He said the recent primary scandal uncovered in Illinois and Pennsylvania were laid at the door of Senator Lenroot and other senators who voted to seat Senator Newberry of Michigan. It was these senators who broadcast to the world that seats in the senate were for sale, he charged.

"For many weeks I have been in attendance upon a committee, of which I am a member, investigating the recent primaries in Pennsylvania and Illinois," Senator La Follette said. "The evidence deduced by the committee has demonstrated that upwards of $3,000,000 was spent in Pennsylvania and 1,000,000 was expended in Illinois by the corrupt interests in an effort to debauch the electorate and to control a party primary. Caught red-handed, these representatives of the great interests try to blacken the name of the direct primary by using it as their alibi. Their cure for the situation which they have created, is to abolish the primary. They want to go back to the more easily corrupted convention system. They prefer to buy delegates in the back room of a hotel—it's cheaper.

"The real cure is to put these corruptionists in jail and to drive from public life the senators who voted to seat Newberry who spent $195,000 in violations of law and morals, to obtain his seat. These senators, who voted to seat him, must bear a degree of responsibility for the scandals in Pennsylvania and Illinois. It was they, who, by a narrow margin, elected the senate, declared to the world that seats in the body were for sale. Thus far, of the 48 senators who voted to seat Newberry, 16 have been defeated; 7 died before they ran for reelection; 2 were not candidates and 13 are up for judgment this year. Can anyone doubt the answer of Wisconsin on Sept. 7.

"Senator Lenroot has supported the president in nearly every big issue that has come up in the senate, and has always been on the opposite side of every big issue, from the other senator from Wisconsin.

"He voted against the resolution asking Secretary Denby of the navy department, who was involved in the 'Tea Pot Dome' oil scandals, and he favors the Mellon tax plan which would take the burden of the taxes off rich corporations and distribute

BY DAN THOMAS
Hollywood—When they fail or tire of one job in Hollywood they turn to another. Actors become directors—actresses become writers. And a few make good.

There is not a more heart-breaking occupation than playing before a movie camera. Humanity is not considered there. The rise to the pinnacle of success is a quick one for some—the short reign is one of luxury and them by putting a sales tax on nearly every article which is bought. Can't you feel that plan spreading and spreading?

"Senator Lenroot supported the World Court, against the expressed will of the people of Wisconsin, and now he is trying to explain his actions by saying that he is for any plan that will bring about peace without war and yet, when the question was voted on in the senate, he understood that the power back of the World Court was a military force, which means war."

enchantment—but the descent into oblivion is even more rapid.

Allen Hale is a director who made his start in the ranks of actors. Hale became quite prominent through his roles in "The Covered Wagon" and "Robin Hood." Today he is directing his fourth picture, "Risky Business," for Cecil B. DeMille. Another of the DeMille clan is Rupert Julian. Julian carved his niche in the hall of actors while playing opposite Marguerite Clark when she was at the height of her career. Now he wields a megaphone and is one of filmland's best directors.

ONCE PERFECT LOVER
Lou Tellegen was once "the perfect lover" of the screen. Then came Rudolph Valentino, Antonio Moreno and Ricardo Cortez with their new style of love making. He soon will start directing "My Wife's Honor," a story of Monte Carlo which he helped write.

Irving Cummings and Harry Beaumont are other notables who have shifted from before the camera to behind it.

Two of Hollywood's most widely known women writers made their bow into the movie industry as "extra girls" for D. W. Griffith back in 1913. Mary Pickford and Blanche Sweet were starring on the same lot then.

Jeanie McPherson and Bess Meredith are the scribes. Both were making from $350 to $5 a week in those days. Miss MacPherson is now head of the scenario department of the DeMille studio. Bess Meredith made her mark by writing "Ben Hur," "The Sea Beast" and "Don Juan" for the screen. She is now a special writer for Warner Brothers.

June Mathis whose annual salary of about $150,000 is reputed to make her the highest paid feminine writer in Hollywood also was one of the great mob of under-paid actresses in the early days of motion pictures.

To Lou Weber goes a distinction now enjoyed by any other woman in the cinema village. She is a writer and a director—and of course, an ex-actress. She is now getting ready to start directing "Uncle Tom's Cabin," starring Rosetta and Vivian Duncan of stage fame.

One of the outstanding characters who suffered the torture of heart-break at the hands of a fickle public, is Roscoe "Fatty" Arbuckle.

NEW NAME
Little is heard of "Fatty" today—his name is but a memory, though he is again successful and happy in his unpretentious home presided over by his wife, formerly Doris Deane. Arbuckle is now directing for one of the largest motion picture companies in Hollywood under the nom de plume of William Goodrich. He has a fat contract and is making pictures that are popular with the same public that made him an outcast.

So the wheel of chance has not stopped on the lucky number for all. These I have mentioned are but a chosen few. Others have passed on to—no one knows where.

The Old Story Many Advisers But—

"MINE is the old story of a widow with many advisers but very few friends. I have about $16,000 to invest. Naturally I must have the maximum income I can get with safety.

"I have a little railroad stock. Would you advise my holding on to it? Would Public Utilities be a good type of purchase for me?"

This letter tells the story of thousands of widows. It is the old story of inexperience in investment and business matters and of doubt and worry over the management of an estate.

How much easier it would be for a widow if her husband would leave his estate to the management of a Modern Trust Company.

DUCK HUNTERS ORGANIZE CLUB FOR SPORTSMEN

Will Attempt to Secure Greater Privileges for Hunters on Lakes

Neenah—B. L. Smith was elected chairman of a new club Friday evening which will attempt to secure greater privileges for duck hunters on Lake Poygan, at a meeting of about 100 sportsmen at the auditorium. Lawrence Lambert was named secretary. The gathering was preliminary for a booster meeting to be held in Neenah in about two weeks at which sportsmen from Menasha, Oshkosh, Fremont, Appleton, Winnebago, Tustin, Hortonville, Winchester, Larson and other places will be invited. At the meeting a well known lawyer familiar with flooded marsh situations and a noted naturalist, will give talks. Clyde T. Cl. naturalist, has informed the club that Lake Poygan must be replanted with rice at once to prevent extinction of the plant in a few years. Furthermore, ducks will not stop at the lake anymore if this action is not done, he pointed out. This matter will be taken under consideration.

Committees were appointed to visit the cities and towns in this neighborhood to interest hunters in the project.

Harry Peck was elected chairman of the executive committee, with Harry Williams, John Herziger, Lawrence Eisenach, Phil Nash, Walter Hines, B. L. Smith and Lawrence Lambert as members. Harry Peck and Lawrence Eisenach were appointed the finance committee to enroll all sportsmen who were not present at the Friday meeting.

John Block was elected chairman of the committee to visit Tustin; Phil Nash and Charles Neubauer will visit Winnebago; Walter Hines, Menasha; Harold Christoph, Fremont; John Herziger and Harry Peck, Appleton; Frank Otis, Hortonville. These committees will visit their towns and cities within the next week to issue invitations to attend the Friday evening meeting. Men will be sent to other places in this vicinity with instructions to spread the fact that a club to protect hunters on Lake Poygan has been organized.

CHILD THEATER TRAINS YOUTH IN CREATIVE ARTS

Thousand Children Participate in Dramatics in Chicago Enterprise

Chicago—(AP)—A juvenile melting pot in which children of all nationalities, from the tenement to the fashionable "Gold Coast" merge in the interest of dramatics. The Children's Civic Theatre of Chicago is now in its tenth season with nearly 1,000 children participating.

Every summer since 1916 this children's theatre has been maintained at the Municipal Pier auditorium, leveling the social lines of birth and wealth to unite Chicago's children in the common interest of art.

It is financed by the city council, directed by Miss Bertha L. Iles and a permanent staff, sponsored by the League of Chicago, and aided by the Civic Music Association.

"Sugar coated training," Miss Iles calls the work, for beneath the fun the children have, the organization is intended to develop leadership, creativity, initiative, tolerance and teamwork.

Most of the programs are suggested by the children, who also plan the costumes and stage settings. The season begins the first week in June and continues until September.

Meetings are held three afternoons each week, with the third afternoon witnessing the production of programs prepared in the two previous rehearsals.

While the programs are almost entirely of children's operas, dancing, short plays and sketches, the theatre does not encourage dramatics or the stage as a profession.

"If any of them become true artists it will be from their own love of art rather than any encouragement from us," Miss Iles said.

Each season the children are granted one night at the Ravinia Opera, and this year they presented a pageant of their own creation entitled "Our Chicago," depicting the history of the city.

But there are lessons for mothers as well. There was a well dressed American mother from an exclusive section talking with a foreign born mother while they watched their children standing beside each other on the stage as cymbal bearers in an Arabian playlet.

Later the American mother turned to a friend: "Why she's so interesting—but I almost was embarrassed—why she speaks five languages and I have a terrible time with just my English."

"THE BREAD OF LIFE" TO BE BEST'S SERMON

Neenah—The Rev. John Best's theme at the Congressional club services in the Menasha club rooms at 10 o'clock Sunday morning will be, "The Bread of Life." Sunday school at 9:30.

Queen Mary Criterion of Good Taste in Style

London—(AP)—Queen Mary is considered a criterion of good taste, which is best exemplified by her conservatism in jewelry. She never, for instance, wears the famous Koh-i-noor diamond at the same time as the Great Star of Africa, believing that these two immense gems would be overpowering and even inartistic when seen in conjunction.

She still continues to wear white gloves, white shoes and white hose when she wears a dress of white. She has been commented that her style seems more accurate than that of the fashion leaders who combine mink, fur, and snakeskin shoes with white dresses.

English Girls Can't Agree on Best Styles

London—(AP)—English women appear to be divided as to the style dress they shall adopt. One section favors men's styles. Besides going in for the latest Eton haircrop, accompanied by flat strands of hair down the cheek, like mens side whiskers, they buy their collars, ties, felt hats, tweed suits, walking canes and even dressing gowns at men's shops. A further masculine touch are cloth garters reaching to the knee for morning wear.

Another section of womanhood is veering toward "feminine fluffiness" in dress. Gowns are now being worn with lace chiffon and longer skirts with frills while the old-fashioned poke-bonnet and fichu are often seen for evening wear.

Picture Dresses Are Fashionable in London

London—(AP)—Picture dresses, first brought out at court functions have become a rage. They are copies of the dresses portrayed by the "Old Masters" and some of such remarkable likeness that their wearers appear to have stepped from some mezzotinted portrait.

Jewels of the period are used to popularize the ankle-length gown with the English debutantes.

WATERWAY, SUBJECT OF EKERN'S CHILTON TALK

Special to Post-Crescent
Chilton—Herman L. Ekern, LaFollette progressive Republican candidate for governor, spoke Thursday evening at the Home theatre.

Mr. Ekern talked on the commercial advantages to the people of the middle west of the proposed St. Lawrence waterway. This system would, if completed, add eight cents to the price of each bushel of wheat produced in Wisconsin and adjacent states.

Bound up with the development of the St. Lawrence waterway is the question of stopping the Chicago steal of water from Lake Michigan, which is lowering the level of the Great Lakes. This lowering of Lakes level results in millions of dollars loss to the people of the middle west in the form of increased freight rates and ruined wharves and harbors, the speaker said.

Philip LaFollette, who was billed to speak with Ekern, did not appear, having been called to Madison by the supreme court to take charge of an investigation into alleged dishonesty on the part of the 117 candidates who took the state bar examination recently in Madison.

Martin Roach of Stevens Point is visiting at the home of his brother Henry.

J. P. Carroll of Manitoba is visiting his sister Miss Anna Carroll. Mr. Carroll grew up in Rantoul, but for some years has been employed by the Canadian Pacific railroad.

Frank Vogel was fined $50 and costs Thursday morning by Justice John Hume at the Justice court. He was charged with driving through the streets of the city at 2 o'clock in the morning with his cutout open and continuously blowing his horn. When ordered to stop by motor cycle officer Jobellus he refused to do so, whereupon the officer opened fire. One bullet is supposed to have struck the disc wheel of the offender's car and was deflected toward the Hotel Chilton, where it struck a plate glass, breaking the glass and imbedding itself in the adjacent casing.

BOBBED HAIR POPULAR IN RUMANIAN COURT

Bucharest—(AP)—All Rumanian society when are bobbing or shingling their hair and even Queen Marie is being urged to follow their example. She would like to do so, but the king refuses to allow her to clip her beautiful chestnut-brown tresses, on the ground that it would ill become one who has to wear a crown. The queen, however, has allowed her ladies-in-waiting and her daughters to fall in with the prevalent fashion if they so desire.

Some of the barbers of Bucharest have closed their doors to men on the ground that their profits from shaving and hair cutting are little or nothing compared to what they are able to charge the ever growing number of women who desire their hair bobbed, banged, shingled or dyed.

ADMIT ONE AMERICAN DISLIKES PUBLICITY

London—(AP)—British newspapers are constantly intimating that all Americans are publicity mad, but the Daily Sketch admits the Duchess of Roxburgh, who recently entertained the Duke of Wales at Floors castle, has a "great dislike of publicity, despite her American origin."

The Duchess was Miss May Goelet of New York, daughter of Ogden Goelet, and has a beautiful home in Carlton House Terrace, London, as well as Floors castle. But very little finds its way into the newspapers about the Duchess' son, Lord Bowmont and Cessford.

FATHER OF WANT AD

The Wonderful Overland Story

Do you want a car that will do 55 flying, brilliant miles an hour... in comfort that will pickup in 21 seconds from 5 to 40 miles an hour that will turn in a 40-foot circle that will stop in a split second...

Then, here's a performance "thrill" you'll never forget

EIGHTEEN months ago we announced a revolutionary new-type car... the Overland Six that has become world-famous.

Measured by present demand it is the most successful car of its class ever created.

This car embodies the most advanced engineering practice from both sides of the world.

In many respects it is entirely different from conventional automobiles as you know them.

It is a low car... the most powerful of its size and weight... based on recent scientific investigations.

40 to 55 miles an hour is its comfortable driving speed.

Acceleration tests show 5 to 40 miles in 21 seconds.

And owners everywhere report hill climbing ability that defies description.

Modern engineering... the reason

This wonderful performance ability of the Overland Six is the direct result of modern engineering.

It is new all through. Brilliantly designed as a unit. Not an old-fashioned reconstructed chassis.

Many cars have been "modern" too long. We mean just what we imply.

Remember, the comfort, riding quality and power of any automobile are first determined on the drafting board.

Long life starts with engineering.

A car that was designed over 3 or 4 years ago, cannot meet the modern standards of today.

You want performance. You want comfort. You want the long life that only modern engineering can supply.

Then decide today to drive this new-type Overland Six. Already over 100,000 owners have found in it their utmost ideal of what a truly modern car should be.

Simply in fairness to yourself see the Overland Six. May we arrange a demonstration?

NOTE:—4-wheel brakes are furnished at slight extra cost. Other models: Touring, $895; Coupe, $895; DeLuxe Sedan, $1095.

The new WILLY'S FINANCE PLAN means less money down, smaller monthly payments; and the lowest credit cost in the industry. All prices, f.o.b. factory. We reserve the right to change prices and specifications without notice. Willys-Overland, Inc., Toledo, Ohio.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

In Harbor Gardens, Long Island in an elaborate bungalow, lived PERRY HEATH and his wife, Myra.

At the time the story opens the Heaths were entertaining as house guests:

LAWRENCE INMAN, a distant relative of Myra's, and, aside from Perry, the only heir to her considerable fortune, and BUNNY MOORE, young, vivacious, golden-haired, an old friend of Myra's.

Myra Heath was a peculiar woman. She was cold, sarcastic, she did not love her husband, but seemed enamored of Inman. She never used cosmetics or dressed in colors. In fact, her hatred of color amounted to a passion. She collected rare old bottles and her latest was a whisky bottle which she was quite proud of but which aroused her artistic husband to scorn.

There is a growing intimacy between Perry Heath and Bunny. Myra, becoming provoked, declares that she has made her will in favor of Inman, cutting Perry off.

That night, after Bunny and Inman retire, Myra Heath alludes mysteriously to Perry's "secret." When Perry goes to bed, Inman comes down stairs, and he and Myra are discovered in each other's arms later by Perry.

The next morning, Mrs. Prentiss, who lives next door, was telling her nephew, Ted Hunter, of some mysterious lights she had seen the night before in the Heath bungalow. While they are talking a loud scream from the Heath home interrupts their conversation.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER V

"Let's rush over!" Toddy cried, putting one leg over the porch railing. "No, no," his aunt restrained him. "We can't do that. Harbor Gardens people are conventional and reserved. Wait until we hear something more." The shrill shriek came from Katie, the Heaths' parlor maid.

This capable and efficient young woman was in the habit of coming downstairs at eight o'clock every morning.

It was her duty to open windows and straighten things generally on the porch.

She had overslept a trifle this morning. For she had been out late last evening, for far later than the prescribed hour.

But she came downstairs, trim and neat in her smart morning uniform, and set diligently to work with her brush and duster.

The lounge in order, she proceeded to the studio, and it was the sight that met her eyes there, that brought forth the wild scream of terror that the neighbors heard.

For there, in the middle of the floor, lay Myra Heath with a candle burning at her head and another at her feet.

Katie looked twice to be sure that it was her mistress, so strange and so changed was the face that she saw.

Then, her hands over her eyes, she stumbled her way back to the kitchen and fell into a chair there.

"What's the matter, Katie?" Cook said, curiously, and the butler came from the dining room to listen.

"Oh, Mrs. Pierce, oh, Herrick— it's the Misses—she's—oh, I do believe she's dead!"

"Dead? Watcha talkin' about?" and Mrs. Pierce, the cook, stared at the excited girl.

"She is—she is! Just you go and look—in the studio—on the floor—"

But Mrs. Pierce, and Herrick, the butler, had already rushed through to the studio.

"For the love of the saints!" exclaimed Mrs. Pierce, "and the candles burnt and all!"

"It ain't Mrs. Heath—" Herrick said, greatly puzzled.

"Sure it's Mrs. Heath! But just look at her! Whatever has she been a doin' to herself?"

For it was a strange Myra Heath they saw.

open eyes, fixed in the stare of death.

"Don't stand there like a nunny, Pierce!" the butler cried out. "We must tell somebody—we must call Mr. Heath—"

"Of course,—of course," responded the flustered woman. "You go and tell him, Herrick. You're the one to go."

So, slowly, Herrick turned away from the terrible yet fascinating sight, and slowly climbed the stairs.

He knocked at Perry Heath's door but heard no response. Repeated knocks brought no word from within, and so Herrick gently pushed open the door.

There was no one there, and the bed had obviously not been slept in. This was amazing, and Herrick's legs trembled under him.

Nonplussed, and uncertain what to do next, the butler hesitated, and then went along the hall to Lawrence Inman's room, and knocked there.

"Who is it? What's the matter?" Inman called, and Herrick heard him jump out of bed and open the door.

Inman faced the man with a look of surprise, for guests were not called of a morning in this house.

"If you please, sir," Herrick began, "there's—there's trouble below."

"Trouble below?" Larry rubbed his eyes. "What do you mean? Speak out, man."

"Well, sir, Mr. Heath sir he ain't in his room."

"Where is he?"

"I don't know, sir. And Mrs. Heath, she's—she's dead, I think."

"What! Herrick, what are you talking about? You been drinking?"

"No, sir. But I tell you there's great trouble on, Mrs. Heath, sir—I tell you she's dead, sir."

Herrick's excitement made him incoherent, and without waiting to dress, Inman flung on a dressing gown, over his pajamas, and pushing the man aside, hurried down the stairs.

He went straight to the studio, and gave a gasp as he looked down at the prostrate figure on the floor.

The two candles were still burning, but they were guttering and almost burnt out.

Myra lay in a composed position, but with strange accessories. Her gown, the one she had worn the evening before, was of white georgette, simply made. But across the bodice, now, was flung the deep, crimson scarf that was Bunny's.

Round her neck was a heavy string of large, almost barbaric beads, of red and gold.

Instinctively, Inman glanced up at a light sconce, where these beads usually hung, as a sort of decorative touch.

Their place was empty. Had Myra decked herself in these things?

He gazed at her face. Always beautiful, in her calm pale way, she was far more so now, with the color on cheeks and lips, with the dark touches that made her eyes look so strange and so changed was the face that she saw.

Then, her hands over her eyes, she stumbled her way back to the kitchen and fell into a chair there.

"What's the matter, Katie?" Cook said, curiously, and the butler came from the dining room to listen.

"Oh, Mrs. Pierce, oh, Herrick— it's the Misses—she's—oh, I do believe she's dead!"

"Dead? Watcha talkin' about?" and Mrs. Pierce, the cook, stared at the excited girl.

"She is—she is! Just you go and look—in the studio—on the floor—"

But Mrs. Pierce, and Herrick, the butler, had already rushed through to the studio.

"For the love of the saints!" exclaimed Mrs. Pierce, "and the candles burnt and all!"

"It ain't Mrs. Heath—" Herrick said, greatly puzzled.

"Sure it's Mrs. Heath! But just look at her! Whatever has she been a doin' to herself?"

For it was a strange Myra Heath they saw.

Instead of her usually pale face and colorless lips, they saw a scarlet mouth, of exquisite shape; cheeks delicately rosy, with beautiful eyes; eyebrows finely penciled and showing their true arch; and a hint of color at the roots of the long lashes, that, upturned, showed wide large and striking, and with the scarf of American Beauty red, enlivening her white dress.

And the candles,—two of those from the long studio table,—standing in their brass candlesticks at her head and feet, still faintly alight, but just ready to flicker out, these gave the effect of a shrine or a strange ceremonial of some sort.

"Oh, my God!" Larry groaned, as a man will, who does not know what else to say.

"She's been killed, Mr. Inman, sir," said Herrick, as he pointed to a great confusion on Myra's left temple.

This was not noticeable at first glance, for the head was turned to that side, and the hair was a bit fluffed out as if to hide it.

Inman looked, then turned away in horror, and ran from the room.

Herrick followed him, and they faced one another as they stood in the lounge.

"What must we do, sir?" asked the man, and Inman stared at him speechlessly.

"But we must do something," Herrick urged, allowing himself the familiar pronoun by reason of the great stress of the occasion.

"Yes, yes," Larry roused himself to answer. "Yes, I suppose we must."

"Where is Mr. Heath, sir?" Herrick went on, anxiously.

"Lord, I don't know. Where can he be? He must be around somewhere."

"No sir, he ain't. Why he'd be right here, if he was. Now, what about Miss Moore?"

"Miss Moore? Oh, yes,—well, what about her?"

"Why, sir, she ought to be—warned a bit, don't you think?"

"Yes, yes, certainly. Warn her, Herrick, warn her, by all means," Herrick stared.

"It's not for me, sir. I'll send Mrs. Pierce or one of the maids."

"Yes, do. That's right,—Mrs. Pierce or one of the maids."

Herrick shook his head. Mr. Inman was a broken reed. And with Mrs. Heath dead and Mr. Heath absent, what was to be done?

"Do you think, sir," he said, forcing himself to suggest, "that we ought to call a doctor, or—"

"A doctor? Oh, yes,—a doctor. Why,—why, Herrick, she's dead."

"I know, sir, but it's most generally done in such cases. Oh, I wish Mr. Heath would come!"

"I wish so, too. I'm—I'm no good in a matter like this. I'm no good, Herrick."

"No, sir," said Herrick, sincere for once. "Well, then, suppose I telephone for Doctor Conklin, he's the family physician."

Never before had he seen his mistress with artificial color on her cheeks or lips; never before had he seen her wearing a crimson scarf; never before, to his knowledge, had she worn a string of gaudy beads. It was beyond his powers of divination to fathom these mysteries.

And then, at her feet, propped against the candlestick that stood there, he saw the card which he had seen many times before,—the ornate pen and ink work that bore the legend, "The Work of Perry Heath"

"And you, sir, yourself you'd better dress, for there'll be people coming, you know."

"Why, yes,—Inman looked down at himself as if surprised at his garb."

"Yes, certainly. I will."

He went off to his room, and, closing the studio door, Herrick went to the telephone.

He summoned Dr. Conklin, who promised to come over at once.

Then, with a swift glance about, Herrick pulled open a drawer in the big table, and from a loose pile of small bills, and a box containing silver coin, he helped himself rather liberally, stuffing the money in his pocket.

He eyed what was left with the air of a connoisseur, decided it was as little as he safely dared leave, and closed the drawer again.

Then he turned his attention to the dead woman, and silently contemplated the strange details of Myra Heath's appearance.

DIAMONDS HOLD SWAY AS MOST POPULAR JEWEL

Queen Mary Sets Style of Wearing Large Single Stone in Hair

London—Fashion in colored precious stones change yearly but the diamond holds pride of place for consistency in the affections of most women.

There has not been enough of the precious stones in the market to go round and it is believed that wealthy Americans have taken surplus stocks of uncut stones which earlier in the year looked somewhat unwieldy to the Hatton Garden dealers. French interests too are believed to have been investing their funds in diamonds.

This year's brilliant functions revealed the fact that family heirlooms dress with artificial color on her cheeks or lips; never before had he seen her wearing a crimson scarf; never before, to his knowledge, had she worn a string of gaudy beads. It was beyond his powers of divination to fathom these mysteries.

BERLIN POLICE LAUD WOMEN AUTO DRIVERS

Berlin—(AP)—Police no longer try unofficially to discourage women from taking the difficult tests for automobile drivers' licenses in Berlin. Several motor vehicle districts have praised women as drivers, saying they are usually more careful than men, although as a general rule they were either "hopeless" or "excellent" with no in-between class.

As a result the mechanical end of tests for women has been eased up. Hitherto women as well as men had to take apart and put together the principal parts of an automobile engine.

 "I'm Lonely Without You"—Fox Trot
 The B. F. Goodrich Silvertown Cord Orchestra
 "Do You Believe in Dreams?"—Fox Trot Irvin Aaronson and his Commanders

Melodious fox trots with soft melodies of soothing, rather pathetic type. "I'm Lonely Without You" is played with all the exquisite finish of a concert number, and the vocal refrain is sung by the "Silver-Masked Tenor," like something at a big recital. Rhythm and color are so perfect that most dancers will move to it as in a dream. To retain this feeling, we pair it with another "dream" fox trot, very similar, but with a little more of the jazz element. In the first number, string counter-melodies prevail; in the second, pretty much everything in the orchestra has a chance.

No. 20090 75c
 "I'm in Love With You, That's Why"
 "Blue Bonnet—You Make Me Feel Blue"
 Miller and Farrell

Of course you remember Miller and Farrell; they present here two new records of sentimental songs in half-whispering duet fashion to the guitar and the mandolin. They are songs of the boy-and-the-girl type, the first one with a fox trot melody, and the second one of similar construction but a thought more leisurely tempo. These might easily be classed as "hot-weather" records; they are the type of ditty you may hear on the hotel porch at almost any resort.

Her Own Way.

A STORY OF A GIRL OF TODAY

THE INEVITABLE QUESTION
 Jim Costello's voice was raspy. I could see that he had felt the cuts which the presumed society young men had given him.

"I had always thought it was only women and girls that kept up that idea of class. I had always thought that men were more democratic."

"My dear Judy, men are the most snobbish animals on earth. They seldom cut one of your sex but they can be nearer than one of mine and see them than one would think possible. But I don't want to talk about men or women in general. I want to talk about you."

"You say that if you didn't stay here and work, you'd have to go home and be a Becker. Isn't this a free country? Can't you do as you please?" I thought all that old melodrama stuff went out with the old plays of our grandfathers."

Jimmie struck an attitude right in the middle of the sidewalk, and proclaimed:

"Daughter, you must marry Sir George Heathcock, or your father will go to prison and your mother die of shame."

Then he came back to earth and again tucked me under his arm and said:

"That might have been the bee's knees in 1850 but in 1926 it's the bunk."

I laughed and then I blushed, for I didn't want Jimmie to know why Dad had insisted I should marry Charles Becker. He insisted as I tried to decide how much I should tell this clever Irishman and how much I should keep to myself.

"You know, Jimmie, Dad thinks a girl ought to marry as soon as she can. He thinks that some man must always be the master of a girl's destiny. Father is the best judge, according to himself, as to what I should do and say and think, until my husband appears on the scene and then he's perfectly willing to turn the management over to him. I don't think it would make any particular difference to Father if the young man had the worst of reputations. He still has that lie implanted in his brain that a girl can marry a man and reform him. I don't want that kind of Jimmie. I want to think I want to work. I want to be somebody all by myself."

"Don't you ever think of marrying, Judy? Don't you expect to fall in love some time. I always thought that was the only thing a girl thought of."

"Tut, tut, man. It's a side issue with most of the girls today."

TOMORROW: For the Sake of Appearances.

PROTECTION OF FIREMEN UPHELD

City and Indemnity Company Carry Appeal to Dane-co Circuit Court

Madison—(P)—The question of the right of volunteer firemen to protection under the workmen's compensation act when they go beyond village or city limits to fight fires is involved in a case appealed to the Dane-co circuit court.

The City of Burlington and The Hartford Accident and Indemnity company is appealing to the circuit court from a recent decision of the Wisconsin Industrial commission upholding the claim of Bernard Peters, a volunteer fireman against the municipality.

Peters was injured when he responded to a call for help outside the city limits of Burlington. His right to the same recognition under the workmen's compensation act as a regularly employed fireman was established by previous decisions. The question as to the right of the fire chief, acting for the city to send Peters outside the city limits arose but the commission held that regardless of whether the city acted outside its powers, the relationship between employer and employee was unchanged.

The litigation is of interest throughout the state in as much as volunteer firemen and employed fireman also, frequently go beyond the corporate limits of the city or village to fight fires on farms.

In the Burlington case, the commission held that Peters was entitled to $22.50 a week, compensation for lost time and ordered the bills for his hospital and medical care paid by the city.

Sternagle and Leu will oppose each other on the mound for the first time this season on Sunday when Appleton travels to Fond du Lac for a battle with the second-place Farismen. Manager Baetz nominated Sternagle as his selection with Refke, the "Kimberly hero," as reserve. Leu, considered one of the leading hurlers in the loop, will attempt to stop the onrush of the fast-stepping Baetzmen, who have hurled all opposition, loop leaders not barred, aside in the last three tilts. Fondy must win to stay on Oshkosh's heels and have a chance at the pennant while Appleton is confident it can take the old game from the Cardinals and spoil another pennant hope. It puppled Oshkosh down two weeks ago at the Sawdust city after Bruce Noel had just finished telling his boys "All we'll have this afternoon is 'batting practice'."

In the first game at Appleton the Baetzmen knocked Vorhes from the hill and took picks on Leu, but Leu stopped them at Fondy though the battle was about even as far as play was concerned. Sternagle has conquered Oshkosh and Neenah since he started work and still has Fondy to add to his scalp list.

The remainder of the Baetz squad will be the same with the classy infield of Radtko at first, Tornow at second, Schultz at short and Gosha at third, functioning in front of Bent, Priebe, and Baetz. A large number of Appleton fans, inspired by the team's win streak and general play lately, are expected to make the trip to the Fountain city.

In an effort to strengthen his batting order still more than it now is, Manager Baetz has again shifted his squad for the struggle. Though the boys are battling well several of the hitters who are most consistent are out of place and the change was made in an attempt to remedy this fact. Son Tornow has been shifted to leadoff man, with "Speed" Bent next and three consistent batters Priebe, Baetz, and Schultz following, with Baetz as cleanup man. Next to Schultz will be Ashman with Gosha, Radtko and the hurler following.

ROOT HAS DROPPED SOME TOUGH GAMES

It seems that young Charlie Root of the Cubs either wins or drops an exceedingly tough game whenever he appears on the mound. Root has not only turned in a sensational bunch of victories this season, but he has also lost several tilts he deserved to cop. His latest hard luck reverse was at the hands of the Brooklyn Dodgers, the Robins whipping him 2-1, though he allowed but five hits.

HELPFUL HINTS FOR GOLFING STARS

GEORGE DUNCAN—DESCRIBES HIS CLUBS
Of late there has been a good deal of discussion as to the golfer's kit—how many clubs he or she should carry, and the kind that are particularly adapted to the use of the average player.

Having been asked to set down my views on this subject, it is an almost essential prelude that I should give details of my own equipment, for, naturally, one has faith in the collection that one has evolved after many years of trial.

We know that Miss Alexia Stirling, former United States woman champion, makes a very successful job of the use of 15 clubs, and that J. H. Kirkwood, the open champion of Australia and New Zealand, is content with seven. (These are by way of being extremes in abundance and scarcity—at any rate, in the case of golfers who are bidding for the world's highest honors on the links.)

If I may lay the flattering unction to my soul, my set of nine clubs represents the happy medium. It is constituted as follows:

Driver	Driving-Iron	Mashie
Brassie	Mid-Iron	Mashie Niblick
Spoon	Mashie-Iron	Putter

NED ALLIS WINS STATE GOLF TITLE 12 AND 10

Milwaukee—Ned Allis of the Milwaukee Country club is this year's Wisconsin amateur golf champion. He won the title Friday on the Oshkosh Country club links when he defeated Irving Peterson of the Washington Park club, Racine, 12 and 10, in the thirty-six hole final.

INTERLAKES AND LEGION WINNERS IN FRIDAY GAMES

Smith Crew on Top by Win from Bankers; Papermen Shove Meyer Press into Cellar

STANDINGS

American Legion	W. L. Pct.
Y. M. C. A.	3 2 .750
Bankers	5 6 .455
Post-Crescent	4 6 .400
Interlakes	1 7 .125
Meyer Press	3 8 .273

FRIDAY GAMES
American Legion 6, Bankers 2.
Interlakes 5, Meyer Press 3.

NEXT WEEKS SCHEDULE
Monday—Interlakes vs Legion.
Wednesday—Meyer Press vs Bankers.
Friday—Y. M. C. A. vs Post-Crescent.

In two of the best played games witnessed in city Twilight softball circles this summer, games decided by the inevitable one-frame break of the one team, the Legion and Interlakes squads emerged victorious in loop tilts played Friday afternoon. The Legion crew climbed back alone to the top when it defeated the Bankers at Fourth ward field, 6-2, while the Interlakes climbed out of a cellar and shed the Meyer Press into the rut at Jones park, 5-3. The Legion-Bankers game was a postponed tilt. At least three of these will be played off next week and when the loop schedule ends every crew should be through with play.

In the game at the Fourth ward field, a pitcher's duel of the first variety between Lotbar Graef and John Wisman was decided for Graef of the Bankers misplays. Both hurlers allowed three bingles, one of Wisman being a scratch hit. Wisman was so effective that not a Legion batter reached first base for four full frames, an unusual feat in softball. In fact all three hits off him were scored in the final frame of the tilt. Graef, the Legion unknuckled the first real batting score twice, so that he almost hurled a no-hit game in softball. However, the winners scored four times in the fifth without a hit in the inning which was the Bankers' blow-up frame.

In that inning Kolb stole home for one run. The fielding game of the Bankers was a high peak for first pulled off by Bill Fries. The Bankers opened the tilt with a run, scored on one hit and added another in the fifth on another single hit. Here they blew up and allowed the Legion four runs without a hit. Another Banker hit came over in the seventh, but Wisman, the Legion pitcher, caught the hit and threw it to first base in the eighth mixed with six errors proved the undoing of the K. C. squad who garnered four hits from Keffeer the Kaukauna moundsman. Collins and Veio accounted for the Kaukauna hits while Courchane, Welhouse, Huntington and Bourassa made the safeties for Kimberly. Wundinger and Esler accounted for two of Kaukauna's tallies, while Kemp accounted for the other two. The Neenah-Little Chute game scheduled for Neenah was postponed until a later date due to the absence of several members of the Little Chute team. Kaukauna leads the league at present while Kimberly and Neenah are each tied for second place with .500 per cent.

Standings

Kaukauna	W. L. Pct.
Kimberly	3 2 .600
Neenah	1 1 .500
Little Chute	0 3 .000

Lineups:
Legion—Schabo, 3b; Wheeler, 2b; Smith, 1f; Sylvester, cf; Frawley, ss; Fries, 1b; Skall, rf; Kolb, lf; Horn, 3b; Kahn, c; Graef, p.
Bankers—King, 1b; McKenzie, 2b; Stoegebauer, 3b; Wisman, p; Voeks, lf; Sauer, c; Welch, rf; Potter, lf; Toek, cf; Gerharz, p.
Interlakes—Legion—Graef and Kahn; Bankers—Wisman and Sauer.

In the game at Jones park, the Interlake men scored first with a tally in the second, but the Press crew tied it in the third. In the fifth and sixth came the bad breaks for the Pressmen, the winners adding two scores each frame for a 5-1 lead which the losers were unable to cut down until the ninth when they tallied twice. Moody and Bleier each garnered a pair of safe blows for the winners, with Moody scoring twice, while R. Colvin, losing hurler, got three hits. LaMere and Bayer two for the Press squad. Colvin scored twice and his brother, Harry, once. LaMere featured the fielding with a one handed stab of a hot liner at shortstop.

Lineups:
Meyer Press—R. Colvin, p; LaMere, lf; H. Colvin, 1b; O. Bayer, 3b; Hamilton, 2b; Weber, c; Peterson, cf; Casperson, lf; L. Bayer, ss.
Interlakes—Conn, McCourt, Kirk, LaRoux, Moody, Queli, Brandenburg, Woods, Bleier, Anholzer and Kessler, Meyer Press . . . 0 0 1 0 0 0 2-5
Interlakes . . . 0 1 0 0 2 2 0-5
Batteries—Meyer Press: R. Colvin and Weber; Interlake, LaRoux and Kirk.

Results Friday showed the Meyer Press a full game behind in the cellar and made a real battle for third place. Three teams are within a half-game of each other for the position, the Bankers, Post-Crescent and Interlakes having an equal chance in the honors.

Gertrude Ederle Conquers Channel

HAS LARGEST HANDS IN GAME

Dazzy Vance, famous speed ball pitcher of the Brooklyn Dodgers, boasts the largest hands in baseball. Around the National League circuit they call Vance "the guy with the big mitts." Here he's shown with a dozen regulation baseballs in one hand. It may look rather easy, but try it some day and you may find it quite a stunt at that.

Opponent Of Pink Mitchell Walloped New Orleans Star

Milwaukee—Tommy White's defeat of Basil Galliano, the New Orleans welterweight, in twelve rounds at Fort Worth, Tex., Thursday night, signifies means that he will not be big to Mitchell; in fact he gained the verdict over Pinky at Jaurco, Mex., only two weeks ago. Can he repeat?

Pinky is working out at the River camp and has a new fighter working with him, Danny Wood of the Pacific coast, who has fought some of the best 135 pounders out there. Right now the betting is about even money on White to beat Mitchell.

The other half of the double bill will bring Harry Kid Brown of Philadelphia here to battle Harry Kahn. Brown was matched with Tommy O'Brien here, but an injury to his eye prevented the match. Kahn, who defeated Tony Sanders at the last show, will have the hardest task of his career if Kahn can whip Brown then, he will be sent against the best lightweight available, for Brown classes with the top notchers.

Harry Su Quong Bill, a real Chinese fighter, will make his first appearance here against Syd Kenny, local Italian flyweight.

There will be a four round opener between Matt Ciancilo and some good welter.

MACKS HANDED COBB'S BOYS NICE TRIMMING

Connie Mack's boys seem to have come back to life. They certainly gave Cobb and his Tigers a fine lacing in the recent Detroit series.

BREWERS WIN AGAIN BUT SO DO COLONELS

Milwaukee—Claude (Bubber) Jonnard is a consummate craftsman. He does nothing by halves. Either he is good, or not so good. Friday he pitched in what is generally termed his happiest vein and, with the material assistance of Bunny Brief's blatant bludgeon, interred the Blues in the second game of the series by a 3 to 1 score.

Y WILL SPONSOR BALL LEAGUE FOR APPLETON BOYS

Hardball Teams of Boys Under 18 Asked to Send Delegates to Meeting Monday

The boys' baseball league, which will be conducted during the balance of the month under the auspices of the boys' division of the Y. M. C. A., will officially get under way at a meeting called for the purpose of organization Monday afternoon. All hardball teams in the city, composed of boys under 18 years of age, whether members of the Y. M. C. A. or otherwise, are asked to send two delegates to the meeting which will open at 5 o'clock Monday afternoon in the boys' division, if they are interested in joining the league.

The meeting is called by John W. Pugh, boys' work secretary, who is in charge of the league, for the purpose of drawing up by-laws and constitution, electing officers, and deciding on trophies. In case there are a sufficient number of teams interested, two leagues may be formed, one for older and another for younger boys. Play will commence next week and continue the three weeks until school opens.

FLAGSTEAD'S INJURY BIG BLOW TO RED SOX

When Ira Flagstead, veteran outfielder, fractured his collarbone during a recent game at Cleveland, the Red Sox lost one of their best players. Flagstead, let out by Detroit a few years ago, has improved each year and during this campaign has looked better than ever.

INDIANS EXPECT MUCH FROM RECRUIT HURLER

Cleveland expects considerable from Willis Hudlin, a pitcher, recently purchased from the Waco club, Texas League. Hudlin cost $40,000 and has won 15 games for an eighth-place team. He should prove a big help to the Indians down the stretch.

19-Year Old American Lass, First Woman To Make Swim, Sets New Record For Speed

Mermaid Is Up Saturday Morning "Ready for Another Swim"; Condition Good

BULLETIN

Dover, England—(AP)—Gertrude Ederle bounced out of bed at 11:30 o'clock Saturday morning declaring she was ready for another swim.

She showed no traces of the terrible strain of Friday's ordeal, when she battled the treacherous currents of the English Channel for 14 hours and 31 minutes crossing from France to England in record time and becoming the first of her sex to perform the feat.

The New York girl was full of pep and in great good humor when she arose.

Dover, England—(AP)—The English channel has been conquered by Gertrude Ederle, the 19-year-old American girl swimmer.

Old Neptune, after numerous previous refusals, including Miss Ederle herself, at last has lifted his three-pronged spear and permitted a woman to swim across the turbulent waterway dividing England from France.

And as if in a most deferential mood, he accorded the former American and Olympic champion such generally favorable conditions that she accomplished it in shorter time than any of the five men who were able to make the arduous journey, from 1872 to 1923.

Starting from Cape Gris Nez, France, at 7:03 o'clock Friday morning under splendid weather and tidal conditions, the New York girl churned the waters of the channel almost continuously with her strong overhand and crawl kick that brought her fame as an amateur nator until 9:40 Friday evening. Then she touched bottom at Kingsdown, between Dover and Deal, and walked happily ashore under the glare of huge bonfires built along the beach to guide her toward the chalk cliffs, amid the acclaim of crowds of spectators. She had brought ashore with her a new record of 14 hours 31 minutes for the achievement. "I am a proud woman," she declared simply. Notwithstanding the long time she had been in the water Miss Ederle required no assistance when she landed. She even desired to take to the water again and swim out to the tug which had conveyed her across from France. She was advised not to do this, however, and entering a motorboat she was taken out to the tug and started back for France.

When she took to the water early Friday morning grim determination was written on the face of the American girl to accomplish the task she had set for herself. With her body thickly covered with grease so that she might be able to withstand the chill of the water Miss Ederle started off with her easy long swinging crawl which won for her world records.

Gertrude Ederle is the sixth person to swim the channel. The five others were men. Her time of 14 hours 31 minutes, bettered that of any of the male swimmers. Tirabocchi, the Italian, previously held the record of 16 hours 32 minutes.

Miss Ederle proceeded immediately to get ready to catch the afternoon boat from Folkestone to Boulogne, where her training quarters were established.

Miss Ederle was in the water again off Dover beach a short time after arising. She explained that she could never face a day without a swim, and was sure she could swim back to Boulogne Saturday if she tried.

"The great point in my swimming at all," she said, "is to show that a girl could do it, that an American could do it, and that I was the American girl."

Not a word was said to her by the crowd which gathered to watch her triumph, drowned out the tugboat's sirens with its yells and had a huge bonfire, which could be seen for miles around, blazing to guide her. Miss Ederle even wanted to swim back out to the tug, 200 yards off shore, but it was not allowed.

BREAKS MARK

GERTRUDE EDERLE

American athletic supremacy again was demonstrated Friday night when Miss Gertrude Ederle, 19-year-old lass, was the first woman swimmer to conquer the English channel. In doing so she broke all records for both male and female swimmers, making up traveling the distance in 14 hours and 31 minutes. Only five men have ever made the swim. Miss Ederle left Cape Gris Nez at 7:03 in the morning and landed at Dover at 9:40 at night, walking unaided out of the surf and up the beach. A large crowd which gathered to watch her triumph, drowned out the tugboat's sirens with its yells and had a huge bonfire, which could be seen for miles around, blazing to guide her. Miss Ederle even wanted to swim back out to the tug, 200 yards off shore, but it was not allowed.

GOOD HIGHWAYS SHOULD PROMOTE WEEKEND TOURS

State Roads, With Few Exceptions, Are in Best Condition Now

When the weather is good, conditions for the usual weekend motor trips should be almost ideal. With few exceptions, Wisconsin roads are at their best. Detours are gradually disappearing, and there has been sufficient rainfall to lay the heaviest dust. Then there is the realization that summer is approaching its end, and long-planned but frequently-delayed trips cannot be postponed much longer. To be sure, about three months of ideal motoring weather remain, but there are many roads. Truly to the north, especially should not be postponed much longer.

In Outagamie-co all state and county trunk roads are in fair condition, and most of them are good. Any of them may be traveled without fear of discomfort. A 2 1/4 mile stretch on highway 26 from Leppa's corners to the Winnebago-co line is being graded, and ditches are being deepened at present. The road is passable, but slightly rough.

The new pavement on Mill-st in New London, on highway 25, which was completed nearly two weeks ago, was officially opened to traffic this week. A curve at the southeast corner was widened to lessen danger of accidents.

A new concrete road on highway 18, east of Stevens Point, was opened for travel Thursday morning, and the detour through Arnott was removed. Construction of the approach to the end of the concrete east of Plover hills was started Thursday by a Portage-co crew.

Portage-co roads generally have been reported as unfavorable to good traffic. A 25-mile stretch on highway 54 in that county is said to offer extremely rough and uncomfortable driving, with many uneven places throughout. The same road is rather poor all the way from Wisconsin Rapids to Waupaca, according to a motorist who made the trip recently.

Between 150 and 155 miles of Marathon-co highways will be laid with concrete within the next five years if a project submitted to the county board of supervisors by the state highways commission is approved by the voters. The plan is to issue $3,000,000 bonds, to be retired from the money received from the so-called free fund without a direct tax levy. The plan is already in effect in Portage, Waupaca, Dane and other counties.

Door County Offers Fine Bass Fishing Possibilities

BY R. A. CLAFIN

The possibilities of Door-co from a fishing standpoint are not as well known as they will be a short time hence. Its fine piscatorial sport, wonderful scenery and exhilarating air are yearly enticing a growing army of people from the hot and crowded cities. The territory is big, however, and there is room for all. The bass season, which opened June 20, begins too early although, with the opening, came reports of good catches from all various fishing centers along the peninsula. And it is better now that it has been at any time previous. The season should open July 15 at the earliest. The bass are not off the spawning beds until the middle of July.

As the season advances the fishing becomes better at points farther north, although limited catches are made from the start at all the principal points. Little Sturgeon, Sawyer, Little Harbor, Idlewild, Mink River, Cana Island and Bailey's Harbor are some of the headquarters and outfitting places from which good results can be met with. There are also several inland lakes that furnish good sport, for instance, Clark's and Kangaroo. For instance, As a rule the gamy Small Mouth predominates. But for edible qualities he is surpassed by the big lake perch which are very abundant. If the laws preventing netting in the waters where the bass spawns can be rigidly enforced there is no logical reason for there ever being a dearth of this fine game fish. His habitats and breeding grounds are so extensive that it should be years before any noticeable shrinkage in the supply becomes apparent.

Bailey's Harbor, on the Lake Michigan side, affords good sport not only with the bass but with pike and pickerel as well. Kangaroo lake is two miles from this point and Mud lake five.

Two miles this side of the above place is Egg Harbor. Pickerel, bass and Northern pike are taken in adjacent waters.

Some twenty miles farther up is Ellison Bay. The fishing is also good here. Ephraim afford good bass fishing. Likewise Fish Creek, is a good place to hang up. A few miles farther north lies Sister Bay. This is one of the best known outlying neighborhoods on the Door county peninsula.

As we stated, the Small Mouth predominates and, for that reason, the fishing is not much in vogue in the peninsula. More bass are taken on plugs than in any other way. As a tip lay in a supply of underwater minnows before starting. These are plugs carrying a spinner at both ends. Get an assortment of the different colors. They will get you bass when everything else fails. We know this from experience.

PREPARE PROGRAM FOR SEYMOUR FAIR

Plans for the entertainment of those who attend the Outagamie-co fair at Seymour Aug. 23, 24, 25 and 26 are under way and one of the finest programs in years is promised by directors of the fair association. Fireworks costing $2,500 are to be used in celebration of the 150th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence. The Cotton Picker's Revue, which is said to be an exceptional negro entertainment will be a feature. Greer's Society circus, which played at the Florida state fair for three consecutive years and at the Madison Square gardens for 30 days this year, will be presented in one of the main acts. It consists of 15 people and 17 horses doing tricks and fancy riding and jumping. One of the specialties of this act is a leap by a horse and rider over an automobile filled with people.

The Flying Melzers, known as "America's Foremost Aerialists," also are engaged to show at the fair. The Belton troupe of five men and two girls will perform feats of strength and daring.

VALLEY FRUIT COMPANY WILL OPEN UP AUG. 14

The Valley Fruit company will open for business about Aug. 14 in the building on N. Oneida-st recently vacated by the Western Union Telegraph Co. The building is being remodelled.

Dance, Gainer's, Mackville, Thurs., Aug. 12.

STUDENTS LEAVE TRAINING CAMP

150 Young Men from Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin Start for Home

Camp Sparta—(P)—One hundred and fifty students from Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin were homeward bound Friday after participating in the first Citizen's Military training encampment held at Camp Sparta. Their program of training, which opened July 8, closed with a three-day practice march from Monday to Wednesday. The students were required to perform the duties of regular field artillery troops. Many awards for athletic prowess and proficiency were made Thursday by Col. H. R. Perry, commanding officer, who praised the students as "one of the finest group of young Americans he has seen in any training camp."

Oscar D. Schneider, Milwaukee, won the year's free tuition scholarship at Lake Forest, Ill., as the "outstanding candidate" of the entire group who could meet college entrance requirements. The scholarship was offered by President Herbert McComb of the Illinois college.

Myron D. Davis, Chicago, was given recognition as the outstanding "soldier-athlete" of the camp. He received a bat and ball autographed by Babe Ruth.

Medals for excellence in each course, offered by the Military Training Camps association, went to Norbert C. Balduz, Milwaukee, basic course; Charles A. Nesbitt, Chicago, red course; Louis C. Van Thielan, Chicago, white course and Emil Tarnov, Chicago, blue course.

Upon behalf of the Civitan club of Milwaukee Andrew Boyd presented medals to Richard Johnson Hunt, Chicago, and Louis C. Van Thielan, Chicago, as the two students who had made the most progress in their courses.

SAYS FLORIDA HAS NOT REACHED PEAK OF BOOM

Florida has not reached the peak of its prosperity, but is merely started on a development program of unbelievable magnitude, according to Frank H. Heath, former Fond du Lac newspaper man and now secretary-manager of the Eustis Chamber of Commerce of Eustis, Fla., who stopped in Appleton this week while on a vacation tour through Wisconsin.

"Many newspapers are attempting to discredit the boom in our state," said Mr. Heath, "but the wealthy men who are investing millions of dollars in developing cities, reclaiming land and erecting hotels, are not fools only blinded by the glare of a false prosperity. Florida is indeed in the midst of a great boom. The state is bound to have some enemies, even as every other state, but it also has a great number of friends."

Florida is divided into five distinct sections, according to Mr. Heath. They are the northwestern portion, which is given over chiefly to farming; the eastern coast, which is a playground of prosperous cities;

the western coast, somewhat similar to the east; the central section, which is a great citrus center, and the "sometime" Florida, the vast area of everglades where a program of reclamation is now under way.

Funeral Service Of Added Scope

When death occurs in the family, that uncertainty as to how to proceed is totally removed by the service Brettschneider gives.

Brettschneider service includes far more than what the public commonly interprets a mortician's function to be.

Information, advice, counsel as to custom, requirements and arrangements are available when Brettschneider is engaged; relieving any confusing condition and simplifying preparations, as well as having all major details most properly handled.

Such added scope is the truer sense of the mortician's purpose today; and as practiced by Brettschneider adds nothing to the cost.
